REDUCTION LIKELY IN SENTENCES OF SOLDIER "REDS"

Commandant of Hawaiian Department Notifies War

TERMS OF TWO 40 AND 26 YEARS

Pair Were Found Guilty of Communistic Activities
by Courtmartial at Honolulu.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,

WASHINGTON. April 10.—The War Department today received a cablegram from the Commanding General of the Hawaiian Department, Major-General Edward M. Lewis, promising an expeditious review of the recent courtmartial cases in which two United States army privates were dishonorably discharged and sentenced to prison terms of 40 and 26 years, respectively, for preachments of radical doctrine.

"From a preliminary survey," said the Commanding General, "the division commander (Major-General William R. Smith) feels that the sentences awarded are excessive and probably will be very materially reduced."

The cablegram bears out the impression left by earlier press dispatches—namely, that the rigorous sentences, comparable to those imposed for grave wartime offenses, were inflicted for what the men said and wrote in support of the communistic theory of government. Several other soldiers are on trial at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, on similar charges but so far as the War Department has been informed, only the two cases have been concluded.

The convicted men are Paul M. Crouch of Taylorsville, N. C., and Walter M. Trumbull of Taunton, Mass., both of whom were in the service company of the Twenty-first Infantry. Both were serving their first enlistment terms, and prior to the filing of the recent charges they appear to have had good records.

Four Charges Against Crouch. Four charges, according to Gen. Lewis' report today, were brought against Crouch: First, that he organized a secret society having for its object "revolutionary communism" in violation of the territorial laws of Hawaii; second, that he persuaded another soldier to join this society; third, that he wrote a letter to the Third International of Moscow, applying for affiliation of the Honolulu society with that organization; and fourth, that he stated in the presence of other soldiers that he advocated the overthrow of the American Government by revolutionary means if necessary. The army court sentenced Crouch to 40 years.

The first, second and third of the foregoing charges were lodged also against Trumbull, and in addition he was accused, under the sixty-second article of war, of having used disrespectful words against the President of the United States and under the ninety-sixth article of war, of having used disrespectful language against the United States and its flag. He was sentenced to 26 years.

Gen. Lewis added that the two cases were tried in different courts and were yet to be reviewed by the division Judge Advocate.

The Two Articles of War.

The sixty-second article of war, which Trumbull was charged with transgressing, reads as follows: "Any officer who uses contemptuous or disrespectful words against the President, the Vice President, the Secretary of War or the Governor or Legislature of any state, territory or Legislature or any possession of the United States in which he is quartered, shall be dismissed from the service or suffer such other punishment as a court-martial may direct. Any other person subject to military law who so offends shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

The ninety-sixth article is a comprehensive regulation against various forms of objectionable conduct not specifically covered by other articles.

It reads: "Though not mentioned in these articles, all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, all conduct of a nature to bring discredit upon the military service and all crimes and offenses not capital, of which persons subject to military law may be guilty, shall be taken cognizance of by a general or special or summary court-

One hundred barrels of vinegar were unloaded at La Crosse.

The boat left St. Louis on March 22 and was about a week and a half late in arriving.

Regular scheduled trips are planned for the remainder of the summer.

EVIDENCE AGAINST SUICIDE THEORY

Mother of Millionaire Orphan Probably Killed by Someone in Her Confidence.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 10.—William D. Shepherd, foster father of William N. McClintock, today was denied a writ of habeas corpus by the Supreme Court. The Court offered no comment. Shepherd has been indicted on the charge of murdering McClintock through typhoid inoculation, and has been refused bail.

CHICAGO. April 10.—Enough mercury poisoning to have killed two persons has been found in the body of Mrs. Emma McClintock, mother of William N. McClintock, orphan millionaire, whom William D. Shepherd, his foster father, is charged with killing with typhoid germs, according to Coroner Oscar Wolff.

The Coroner's final statement, issued after his chemist reported results of tests made on her body, disintegrated after 16 years' burial, said the poison in all probability was administered to her between 10 and 15 days before her death.

When Mrs. McClintock died in Chicago shortly after visiting the Shepherds, who lived in Texas, her will placed her under the guardianship of Mrs. Shepherd, with whom she had attended a Kansas college, with a fee of $1,000 a year.

It was very evident," said Consider, "that the poison was administered to her by someone in her confidence.

The poison necessarily must have been administered by subterfuge, on food or in medicine, and therefore it must have been given by someone in Mrs. McClintock's close confidence, one of her attendants. Certainly she would not accept such services from strangers.

NOT A CASE OF SUICIDE.

The amount of mercury found is in itself proof that it was not taken as medicine, or accidentally, or with suicidal intent. If that amount had been taken in one dose resulting convulsions would have been so violent as to indicate at once to the attending physician that the patient had been poisoned.

Our investigation indicates there were no convulsions, only a bloated condition of the body that seemed suspicious and to cause one witness to believe at the time a post mortem should have been performed.

Dr. William D. McNally, Cor-ner's chemist, who examined the body of Mrs. McClintock, has not completed analysis of the vital organs of Dr. Oscar Olson, McClintock family physician, whose body was disinterred at the same time as that of Mrs. McClintock. Dr. Olson, brother of Harry Olson, Municipal Court Chief Justice and investigator of the inquiry into William McClintock's death, died three years ago, a few hours after Shepherd had visited him.

Detectives who checked all the medicinal prescriptions given Mrs. McClintock during her last illness announced none of them showed that mercury or its compounds had been contained in them. Search was started, following Coroner Wolff's statement for witnesses of her last moments.

Several witnesses found by Judge Olson who will testify when the Coroner's jury investigation of the death of Mrs. Mc-Clintock and Dr. Olson is resumed.

One of these, a man named Eaton, has said, according to Judge Olson, that he saw Shepherd give Mrs. McClintock liquid from a bottle during her trip to the Southwest, from which she returned to die.

Another, a St. Louis woman, has made a statement that Mrs. Mc-Clintock apparently was in the best of health when she passed through St. Louis on her way to visit the Shepherds.

Action by the State's Attorney on the chemist's report will not be taken. Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney, said, until the completion of the Coroner's investigations into Four hundred and sixty-six drivers of automobiles, motor cycles and wagons, mostly motorists, who were without proper 1925 plates, were arrested today by policemen stationed at strategic points through the city in a campaign ordered by the Chief of Police yesterday.

South Side policemen made the most arrests, mainly at points on Grand boulevard.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—A bank robber was making his escape from a Mercantile Trust Co.'s branch bank he had held up here yesterday when he encountered a policeman, called to the scene by the burglar alarm.

The robber opened fire on the policeman, shooting the officer in the stomach and through the ear.

The officer, who staggered up to the robber and dropped handcuffs upon his wrists after a struggle, the robber, who gave the name of Felix Sloper and said he was an ex-convict, was captured when the shotgun squad of the Police Department arrived.

The mob almost succeeded in reaching the hotel where the veteran British statesman was staying.

The efforts of Syrian police having failed completely to check the demonstration, although extra precautions had been taken because of the attack against his hotel Wednesday night.

The demonstrations against Lord Balfour are due to his work in the establishment of a national Jewish home in Palestine. He is the author of the Balfour declaration by which Great Britain announced its support of the Zionists movement.

TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE HERE IS INDICATED

Accountants' Findings, Laid Before Public Service Board, Favors Boost in Business Charges.

REVENUE FOR YEAR NEAR $2,160,867

Further Hearing on the Company's Request to Be Held in St. Louis on May 4.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 10.—A report of accountants to the State Public Service Commission today indicates that the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. may be entitled to an increase in its St. Louis business telephone rates aggregating about $300,000 a year, which it requested last autumn, unless it can be shown that the company's operating expenses are excessive and can be reduced.

The accountants employed by the commission went over the telephone company's books for a three-month period following the merger of the old Kinloch system with the Bell. St. Louis business telephones only would be affected by the increased rates.

On the basis of the company's accounts and its present business, the company is earning 8.84 per cent annually for depreciation and returns on investment (dividends) the audit shows. The increase sought, if it is granted, would increase the rate of earning to 11.4 per cent.

While members of the Public Service Commission would not commit themselves definitely on the prospect of granting the increase sought, it was pointed out here that the showing of the audit would indicate that the company was entitled to the increase unless further investigation showed that operating expenses could be reduced.

While officials of the company were not willing to be quoted, it was stated that the figures for operating expenses appeared to be somewhat high. The accountants reported that for the purposes they reduced the figures for operating expenses somewhat, due to the extraordinary expense involved in the physical consumption of the Bell-Kinloch merger. However, they were unable to determine from the company books just what factors caused the expenses to rise then.

The books showed the total cost of the telephone company plant in St. Louis up to Dec. 31, 1924, was $22,286,078.11, which, with allowances for working capital, supplies and cash, would bring the valuation of the property for rate-making purposes to $24,442,057.11.

The audit of revenue and expenses during the three-month period showed a balance available for depreciation and returns was sufficient to produce, on an annual basis, $2,160,876.32, or 8.84 per cent on the apparent valuation.

A further hearing on the application for an increase will be held by the commission in St. Louis on May 4. The City of St. Louis, which is opposing the increase, will be heard then.

Business telephones in St. Louis serve 23 per cent of telephone subscribers there, with about 23,500 stations, and they are stated to be deriving the greatest benefit from the unified service following the merger. Increases sought are: Trunk lines, $15.50 to $21 per month each; measured service to be 100 outgoing calls for 8¢ per month instead of 67 for 4¢; direct lines from $12 to $14 per month; guarantee of 100 calls daily instead of three, for nickel-in-the-slot telephones.

Covered by the Audit.

The audit by the commission's accountants covered revenues and operating costs for September, October and November, following the merger of the Kinloch and Bell systems, but the audit of plant additions went back to Jan. 1, 1914, the date of a previous audit.

Operations for last December were excluded because the company claimed an expense of $1,900,000 for damage caused by the steel storm that leveled the State, Dec. 18. The accountants considered this an extraordinary item that should not be figured into the yearly averages in arriving at a rate base.

The audit showed the original cost of the Bell plant on Jan. 1, 1914, to be $1,182,248. To this was added $724,940.67 for additions to March 31, 1917, and $14,277,880.68 for additions and betterments from March 31, 1917, to Dec. 31, 1924. The latter item included $5,279,378 for that part of the Kinloch properties in St. Louis. To these items were added $179,957 for supplies on hand and an allowance of $388,026 for cash working capital, bringing the value of the plant, exclusive of the department, and that I shall do my best."

Police Board Demotes O'Brien and Hoagland

decision to name Gerk was reached only yesterday.

Military abruptness marked the announcement of the board's decision, which was made known at 6 p.m. by Allen C. Orrick, president of the new board and veteran of two wars.

Baker Noncommittal.

Gov. Baker, who was in St. Louis last evening and this morning, said he knew nothing of the board's action until after it was taken. He said the only conference he has had with the Police Board was the one held at Hotel Jefferson immediately after he appointed the board, and that he told the commissioners at that time that the department was in their hands and he would not interfere with them.

There was speculation as to the possible connection of Mayor-elect Miller with the changes. Miller, who will take office April 21 and will thereupon become an ex-officio member of the Police Board, is out of the city. While head of the board, in 1921-22, Miller retained O'Brien as chief and promoted Hoagland and Vasey from detective sergeants to the positions of Chief of Detectives and Inspector of Acting Chief Oct. 19, 1922, being confirmed in the position in January 1919.

When seen today by a Post-Dispatch reporter at his home, 5350 Vernon avenue, O'Brien showed a spirit of military discipline in his acceptance of the board's action. "I know of no particular reason," he said. "The board called me before it late yesterday afternoon, and President Orrick called me and had decided upon a change if I would accept a captaincy."

He was told he could take as much time as he might wish, and to come back when ready. I shall take a few days only."

President Orrick said that the board had nothing against me personally and that there was no complaint as to my official conduct, but that it had decided to make a change, and felt that I would take the decision in a loyal spirit. I assured him that I would do so, I feel that the present board is a fine one and that the Governor made no mistake in placing Col. Orrick at its head. This change is not altogether welcome to me. The duties of Chief are very arduous and I have seriously thought at times of asking for the demotion which has now occurred."

Surprise, Says Hoagland.

Hoagland and Vasey said they had nothing to say as to the change, except that it came as a surprise to them. Inspector Wetzell is 50 years old and lives at 3295 Dodier street. He has been in the department 20 years and was made a Lieutenant three years ago.

O'Brien, while head of the force, engaged in two revolver fights with criminals, upon whom he changed to come home riding about the city. He was shot in 1918 by one of three men who had tried to rob a jewelry store. In 1922 he shot and killed a negro who was holding up a saloon keeper.

Chief of Detectives Kaiser reached his new desk at 8:45 a.m. and found Hoagland waiting to turn things over to him. The new head of the Detective Bureau is 43, and joined the force in 1914. He went on special duty in May 1913, and has been a detective since his promotion to Lieutenant coming two years ago. He is known as a hard worker, who talks little. He lives at 353 Belmont avenue, and was there last evening at 8:15 when he was summoned to headquarters and informed of his promotion.

"All I can say," he said today, "is that this is going to be a regular detective bureau, and that all the men are going to work hard."

The Police Board, in its formal announcement of the changes, stated that O'Brien and Hoagland each "presented his application to the board for demotion to the ranks of Captain and Lieutenant respectively, and that the application has been approved."

"The new appointments, effective at once," were then stated.

The board's special meeting this afternoon was called to discuss with bankers the question of with

'BABE' RUTH HAS INFLUENZA BUT IS NOT IN DANGER

Physicians State It Will Take Baseball Player Week or Ten Days to Recover Fully.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 10.—"Babe" Ruth's condition is not serious. It was stated at St. Vincent's Hospital today. He slept from 11 p.m. until after 10 a.m.

Hard Training Cited.

Baseball writers and followers of the game attribute Ruth's collapse to his haste to doff winter weight. At Ruth's age the conditioning process is usually long and tedious. Many veterans of baseball reach their proper condition only after several weeks of the schedule have been played and the warm months arrive.

The noted home run hitter is said to have eaten a heavy breakfast in Washington yesterday and to have repurposed himself as much improved when the win on which he was traveling reached Manhattan transfer just outside New York City. At that point Ruth rose and went to the washroom to prepare to meet his friends at the Pennsylvania station. There, several minutes later, a newspaper man found him unconscious.

At the station an ambulance awaited him, but physicians found it necessary to work over the ballplayer for nearly an hour before he could be removed through a window of the car on a stretcher. On the journey to the hospital Ruth is said to have become violent several times and he was carried into the hospital only after a struggle.

Collapsed on Tuesday.

Ruth left New York many weeks ago for Hot Springs, confident he would arrive at physical fitness which would guarantee his supremacy among the American League batters the coming year. He first collapsed in the railroad station in Asheville, N. C. Tuesday.

After a day of worry, Mrs. Ruth emerged from the hospital last night to report that "Babe feels fine and is much better." He had fallen asleep she said. Around the head in which consciousness and bradys had been reported, was a night cap. Mrs. Ruth declared, indicating that the injuries had been far from severe. Dr. Edward King, physician of the New York American League baseball club, believes he can fit Ruth for the opening game against Washington in New York on Tuesday.

Ruth was declared out of danger in an official statement made public at 2:30 p.m. by word from the New York American League club. The statement, signed by Drs. Edward King and George David Stewart, said that Ruth was suffering from a recurrence of influenza and that it would probably be a week or 10 days before his full recovery.

Overrating Cause of Ruth's Troubles, Manager Huggins Believes.

RICHMOND, Va., April 10.—"Indirection is behind 'Babe's trouble," Manager Miller Huggins, here today with the New York "Yankees" to play the Brooklyn "Dodgers," declared in commenting on the illness of the noted home-run hitter. He expressed the belief that Ruth's trouble was caused by overeating, but added he expected to have Ruth back shortly after the opening of the season.

Sentences Called Inhuman.

Commenting on the action of the Honolulu military courts, Senator George W. Norris, independent Republican of Nebraska, declared that if the full evidence against Crouch and Trumbull was no stronger than that contained in published reports the sentences meted out to them were "terrific and inhuman."

Masons Accept Building Plans.

The Masonic Temple Association of Edwardsville yesterday accepted one of a number of plans offered in an architectural competition and authorized the construction of a $50,000 building.

O'Brien, while head of the force, engaged in two revolver fights with criminals, upon whom he changed to come home riding about the city. He was shot in 1918 by one of three men who had tried to rob a jewelry store. In 1922 he shot and killed a negro who was holding up a saloon keeper.

Machinery for Review.

Pointing out that the cases are subject to a series of reviews, War Department officials asserted today that if an injustice had been done at Honolulu it was almost certain to be corrected. Numerous long-term sentences imposed during the World War, they recalled, were gradually lessened.

Court-martial cases are subject to review first by the division commander, second by the department commander and third by the office of the Judge Advocate General in Washington.

The examination in this office is made by three officers, each acting independently of the other. All these steps are taken automatically. There are further provisions for appeals to the Secretary of War and the President.

The code fixing the method of review was drawn up under the direction of Newton D. Baker when he was Secretary of War, and is described by spokesmen of the department as throwing every possible safeguard around the accused soldier. The cabled opinion of the division commander is the effect that the sentences against Crouch and Trumbull were probably excessive.

Igoe written in after Miller's name was scratched. Such ballots, it is believed by Democrats, were counted for Miller, whereas the intent of the voter was clearly to vote for Igoe. The law provides that the ballot may not be torn, defaced and that the only instance where a name may be written in is in the event the voter desires to cast his ballot for someone whose name does not appear on the ballot form. If the name does appear an 'X' must be made in the square to the left of it and no scratching is permitted.

Another Instance Cited.

Another instance was where voters neglected to put cross marks in any of the squares but instead drew vertical lines through the Republican and Socialist tickets. It is contended that the voter's intent in such case was very apparently a decision to vote for Igoe.

The proper manner in which to have voted the Republican ticket with the exception of Miller for Mayor was to place a cross in the circle at the head of the Republican ticket and a cross in the square to the left of Igoe's name. Ballots so marked were counted for Igoe and the Republican candidates for Comptroller and Aldermen.

The official count will continue for three or four days before the final results are announced. It was said that no estimate could be given on the number of rejected ballots until the count was completed, but the first 11 precincts of the First Ward showed a total of only 11 rejected.

The official count has to do only with a verification of figures on the tally sheets, which show the number of rejected ballots. It does not mean a recount of the ballots.

Representatives of both Miller and Igoe were on hand to watch the count.

Four of the 15 directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co. were replaced at the annual meeting of stockholders today at the executive office of the company in the Railway Exchange Building.

One of the new directors is L. F. Lores of New York, president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad and chairman of the board of the Kansas City Southern Railroad.

Lores and the other new directors, Samuel W. Fordyce Jr., St. Louis attorney, and Moritz Rosenthal and William Wiseman of New York are understood to represent the minority stock holdings of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

The statement of Coroner Wolff came yesterday while the Illinois Supreme Court was taking under consideration the petition of Shepherd's counsel for a writ of habeas corpus.

The affidavits of the new directors revived interest in the possibility of a railroad consolidation involving the "Katy." Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are interested in the Kansas City Southern and the Chicago & Alton railroads, both of which are also represented.

Suspicion of five deaths by poison has marked the history of the McLintock fortune through the last five decades.

In Market for Securities.

It has been common knowledge for months in railroad and financial circles that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. were in the market for the purchase of M.-K.-T. securities, as was evidenced today by the minority representation accorded that house.

The deaths to which the attention recently has been attracted are those of William N. McLintock, youthful heir of the fortune who died in December, of 1924, of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Emma Nelson McLintock, mother of young McLintock, who was left the fortune when her husband was killed in an automobile accident.

Dr. Oscar Olson, friend of the McLintock family.

Sarah Hickling McLintock, first wife of William McLintock, father of the orphan millionaire.

William Hickling, founder of the fortune and first husband of Sarah Hickling McLintock.

The deaths of the first three are under investigation. Hints that the latter two might also have been poison victims were contained in information recently given the State's Attorney's office.

The fortune was amassed in the ashes of the Chicago fire of 1871 by William Hickling who came to this country an immigrant boy from England.

"All this talk about Mrs. McLintock and Dr. Olson being poisoned is merely an effort to inflame the public mind against Shepherd," said Shepherd's attorney, William Scott Stewart. "It is irrelevant and ridiculous."

Dr. Charles Krusemarck, who attended Mrs. McLintock at her death, was examined by Assistant State's Attorney John Sbarbaro. He said he believed Prof. Arthur Edwards of Northwestern University that he administered no mercury; that he and Prof. Edwards decided Mrs. McLintock was suffering from a severe case of rheumatism and a heart lesion.

A difference of opinion between city officials, which has lasted about a year, is ended by the approval yesterday of an ordinance appropriating $136,000 of bond issue money for fire-fighting apparatus. The approval was voted by the Public Safety Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

The difference of opinion had been over specifications for the apparatus.

Previous approval of the ordinance had been voted by the Citizens' Supervisory Bond Issue Committee and the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. It is expected to be passed by the Board of Aldermen today under suspension of the rules, as the session is about to end.

The bill has an emergency clause, making it effective as soon as passed and signed by the Mayor.

Five pumpers, three aerial hook and ladder trucks, two city service trucks and ladder trucks, two superior trucks and one chief's automobile are included in the specifications. All are motorized.

Mummified Body on View

BODY IN CASKET PUT ON VIEW FOR CURIOUS PUBLIC

Glass Panel Placed in Mausoleum of Joseph Marconnot to Carry Out Terms of Will.

MASK-LIKE FEATURES WELL PRESERVED

Cosmetics and Building-Up Process From Within Have Left Face Smooth and White.

The curious may now look through the glass panel in the door of Joseph Marconnot's mausoleum in Mount Olive Cemetery for a view of the elaborately preserved body of Marconnot in its $2700 bronze casket.

The view thus obtained of Marconnot's mask-like features, rather than being a violation of the sanctity of the tomb is in strict accord with Marconnot's last wishes, expressed in his will, that the public be allowed to view his body in its costly half-ton casket.

Marconnot died Dec. 27 last, and in his will directed that a minimum of $3000 be expended from his $70,000 estate for preparation of his body for indefinite preservation in a manner similar to the mummification of King Tutankhamen and other Egyptian rulers.

Marconnot also directed that the public be allowed to view the body in the principal holidays of the Catholic Church, of which Marconnot was a member.

Yesterday, the lid of the casket was raised and the body exposed to view.

Glass Panel in Door.

Since the mausoleum is small, it was decided the public could not be admitted within it, but a glass panel in the door of the structure permits a clear view of the interior.

Unless objections are raised by relatives the casket will be allowed to remain open indefinitely.

James Fitzgerald, president of the Southern Undertaking Co., who had charge of the preparation of the body, announced.

Although the body was placed in the mausoleum Jan. 3, burial might have been last week if one were to judge from the condition of the body under the glass top of the massive casket.

The features appear to have been cast in plaster. Cosmetics and a building up process from within have left the face smooth and white.

The body has shrunk since burial. The lid of the casket was left open to the onlooker, with the exception of the hands, which appear hard and brown.

The preservation to date has seemingly disproved the predictions of other undertakers, some of whom had declared no corpse could be preserved more than three months in a sealed casket, according to Fitzgerald.

All the plans for Hal's future are the result of his latest escapade—his flight to Columbus with Lillian Vogel, the 15-year-old Zanesville girl.

The official windup of the affair was written in Muskingum County Juvenile Court yesterday when Hal was fined $100 and placed in custody of the court until 21 and the girl was told to shun boys and get back to her school books. She is on probation for a year.

The Governor is convinced the solution of Hal's troubles lies in keeping him eternally active.

"I have worked on this job as hard as I ever worked before," the Governor said.

"I have worked night and day. If I haven't been a speech somewhere at night, I have been working here.

"In the future I'm going to give less time to the State and more time to my own family."

WICHITA, Kan., April 10.—Detective E. W. Hall was slain and an unidentified man was shot in a fight between officers and an automobile load of men, suspected of planning a filling station robbery here early today. The wounded man was pulled into the car by his companions, who escaped.

An open-necked skirt-blouse and a kilt would be of benefit to men if they could survive the ordeal, he maintained.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN INQUIRY INTO O'BRIEN MURDER

She Was Seen to Exchange Shots With Alleged Highwayman Night Before His Body Was Found.

CLEW GIVEN BY OIL
STATION MANAGER

Identity of Man Indicted in Holdup of Bank Messenger Established Through Finger Prints.

Police are seeking a young,
bobbed-haired woman who was with Edward O'Brien, alleged highwayman, and exchanged revolver shots with him several hours before his bullet-riddled body was found early yesterday on Plymouth avenue, a short distance west of the city limits.

"Find the woman," was the order broadcast after George Ashley had told of an unusual occurrence in front of his filling station at 1049 Hamilton avenue, at 10:10 o'clock Wednesday night.
Ashley said an Oakland touring car was driven up to the station by O'Brien, who got out, leaving a man and a woman in the rear seats.

Exchanged Shots With Woman.
While Ashley replenished the gasoline tank, O'Brien and the woman engaged in a quarrel.
O'Brien, according to Ashley, seemed angry and suddenly whipped out a revolver and fired a shot over the woman's head. The woman drew a revolver from her waist and fired back, also missing, and saying:

"I'm pretty good shot, myself. Now, get back in the car."

O'Brien took the driver's seat and the woman paid for the gasoline.

"Drive to the lake," she commanded, as the car departed.
O'Brien had previously told Ashley they were en route to Creve Coeur Lake. One route to the lake would have taken them past the spot where O'Brien's body was found at 6 a. m. yesterday, with 13 bullet holes in it. Police deduce from the number of wounds that at least two persons fired at him.

Description of Woman.
Ashley described the woman as being about 20 years old, 125 pounds in weight and having light, bobbed hair and sunken eyes and a black beauty spot on her right chin. She was wearing a rose-colored hat and dress and high-heeled shoes. Her companion was about 25 years old, 140 pounds in weight, sallow-faced, wearing black clothes and shell-rimmed glasses.

O'Brien's body lay unidentified for hours yesterday at a morgue
in Kirkwood. Finally, Lieut. Shea of the Police Bertillon Bureau, who had taken finger prints of the dead man for comparison with prints of police characters on file at headquarters, announced the dead man was O'Brien. About the same time, Ashley, who had read in the newspapers of the finding of the unidentified body, accompanied police to the morgue and identified the body as being that of the automobile driver.

O'Brien Under Two Indictments.
O'Brien and two other men were indicted for first-degree robbery in the holdup Feb. 10 of Joseph Williams, a negro messenger of the State Bank of Wellington, who was slugged and robbed of $7600 cash on a Midland street car. The same day police raided an apartment at 722 North Clara avenue, arrested O'Brien and the other two men and recovered $3650 of the boot. O'Brien also was indicted for an attempted robbery at the Hamilton Hotel, Feb. 9, during which he was alleged to have fired at a policeman. He was out on bond on both charges. Police believe these cases may have some connection with his murder. He was 22 years old, and had been arrested on suspicion 25 times in recent years.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 10.—
Gaston Glass and Renee Adoree, motion picture players, announced their engagement today. The wedding date was not revealed.
Several months must elapse. It was understood before Miss Adoree's interlocutory decree of divorce from Tom Moore, also of the screen, will become final.

FIND EFFECTS OF RUPTURED BLOOD VESSEL WITH TADPOLE

Anatomists Say Puncture Allows Corpuscles to Percolate Tissue; Lymph Glands Expanding.
By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, April 10.—What happens when a blood vessel is ruptured was described by Drs. E.
R. and Eleanor L. Clark, husband and wife, of the University of Georgia, in an address at the convention of the American Associations of Anatomists yesterday.

Declaring they made their studies on the thinness part of the tail of a tadpole, which could be studied under a microscope, the Clarks said they found that when a blood vessel was punctured and the blood corpuscles were allowed to percolate into the surrounding tissue, lymph glands reached out, surrounded the corpuscles and carried them back into the blood stream.

"Corpuscles too far away for the lymph glands to pick up were met overcome and absorbed by elastic tissues, or pigment cells," they said.

"The same thing happens when you get a black eye," Dr. B. M.
Patten of Western Reserve, explained. "The blackness is caused by the blood corpuscles getting out of their proper channels and into the surrounding tissues. When they have been picked up or absorbed, the eye clears up."

LEE TURNER, 'AVIATOR
BANDIT,' HELD IN WEST

Egan Gangster, Wanted in Connection With Mail Robberies, Willing to Return.

Lee Turner, Egan gangster known as the "aviator bandit" who is wanted in connection with mail robberies at Pocahontas and Saukenuk, Ill., is in custody in Los Angeles, Cal., according to information received by Post-Dispatch Inspector Euster here today.

Turner has admitted his identity, the telegram said, and has offered to return to St. Louis without extradition proceedings. His arrest resulted from photographs sent to the postal authorities in Los Angeles following reports that he had been seen there. He was known there by the name of George Clark and George Gibson. With the exception of William Engler, who is still at large, Turner is the last of the mail robber gang, which got approximately $60,000 in the two holdups, to be accounted for.

Barney Kassel, another member of the gang, was killed near Los Angeles last Friday while attempting to rob a bank of $160,000 Standard Oil Co. payroll. Other members, including William P. (Dinty) Colbeck, are serving 15 and 25 years terms in the Leavenworth Prison.

Kassel's aged mother, Mrs. Anna Kassel, who collapsed when told her son had been killed in the robbery, said she hoped to uncover evidence to establish his innocence before leaving Los Angeles to bring his body back to St. Louis. She declared he was a good boy and had never been in trouble in St. Louis.

Turner received the sobriquet of "the aviator bandit" as a result of his trip to Pocahontas in an airplane on the day of the robbery. While no actual use was made of the plane in the holdup, police believe the plan was to carry away the loot by air, so it might not be found in the robbers' automobile. Engine trouble, however, forced Turner to land in a field near the town where his plane remained until repaired the next day.

He was graduated from Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., and devoted most of his work to parishes at Dardenne, South Dardenne, and O'Fallon, all in St. Charles County. He was stricken with paralysis three weeks ago shortly after preaching a sermon at O'Fallon.

The Rev. Watson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annie Watson, four sons and five daughters.

WORK ON TUNNEL PROCEEDS

HARRISBURG, Ill., April 10.—For at least 10 days serious labor trouble at the tunnel being built by the Illinois Central on its new short line from Edgewood to Metropolis will be averted. Ninety-five men employed on that tunnel work in Johnson County were discharged Wednesday when they affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Vice President Knox of Guthrie Construction Co. of Chicago, arrived in camp yesterday and a meeting was held immediately with the men and organizers, which resulted in the Guthrie Co. recognizing the union and the men agreeing to return to work pending an agreement on a new wage scale.

Knox assured the men wages would be increased.

KILLS SELF AFTER BAD SPECULATION.

By the Associated Press
PEORIA, Ill., April 10.—The body of Walter Hunsse, 48 years old, one-time wealthy farmer of Arnold, Neb., was found in a room of a dormitory hotel last night. He had killed himself by taking chloroform. At his side was a letter addressed to his wife telling her he had speculated with the money she had sent him and he had lost everything. He also gave her some advice from a man of worldwide experience to stay on the farm and try to keep the children there. He had taken out more insurance before he killed himself.

MAC MILLAN PARTY
TO REPORT BY RADIOAerial Polar Expedition Plans to Stake Out New Continent With U. S. Flags.

NEW YORK, April 16.—A supply of American flags, with which they hope to stake out a new sub-continent for the United States in the Arctic region, will be carried by the Donald C. MacMillan aerial polar expedition. Lieutenant Commander E. F. McDonald, naval research officer, designated by the United States Navy to accompany the expedition, has announced here.

News of the adventure by radio, available daily to all news agencies and papers, is one of the plans of the leaders, said McDonald. The expedition will carry a 20-meter wave length radio outfit and hopes to be able to "talk" to the United States cruiser Seattle, which will be off the coast of Tasmania.

MacMillan Wants Little Men to Man the Airplanes.By the Associated Press
DAYTON, O., April 16.—Donald R. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, who lectured here last night, declared he would favor selection of "little men" to man airplanes which will attempt to find an unknown continent in the Arctic.

"If I have my own way," MacMillan added, "the Navy Department will start immediately to eliminate every applicant who is not under 5 feet 8 inches. Big men are like big dogs, they wear out too quickly."

"When we set out this summer, I want men who are not hampered by families and who will not spend their leisure time contemplating the plight of the dependents. We must have contented men."

A few days ago MacMillan inspected the amphibian planes that will take the explorers to uncharted regions of the Arctic. Reports that the planes were to be supplied by McDonald were untrue, he said, for both the larger and small models that he will take are being built in New York.

With these planes which will accomplish in three months what originally required 18 months to cover, MacMillan says there will be many changes in the life of the explorers.

"It will be strange," he added, "not to be able to look back upon the few laboriously traversed miles and see the red tracks of the dogs bloody feet. No more will we need to haul the trip to raise up the animals that have fallen unconscious by cold and bruises."

Completed details of the expedition still are undetermined. MacMillan has agreed to command the crew. He has not had any exhaustive conferences with navy executives and is not familiar with the size of personnel nor many other details that must be considered before the trip is undertaken.

However, he assailed statements of Dr. Knud Rasmussen, Danish explorer, that disaster might come to the party on landing.

"We are quite familiar with the conditions we will encounter in the North," MacMillan said. "Perhaps better so than Rasmussen, whose expeditions have been confined for the most part to within 500 miles of the North Pole."

Edelman Addresses Rotary Club

Arthur Edelman, president of the Illinois Rotary Club, and Henry Schreiter, his successor, addressed the Edwardsville Rotary Club at their noonday luncheon Thursday.

Former Mayor Reece Dies.

Springfield, Ill., April 16.—Roy R. Reece, 54 years old, former Mayor of Springfield, died here early today. Afflicted with heart trouble, he steadily weakened following a second stroke of paralysis three weeks ago. He was the son of the late Adjutant-General Jasper N. Reece, and following his father's death in 1905 was appointed to fill the unexpired term. He had served with high rank in the Illinois National Guard.

Man Celebrates 101st Birthday.

One hundred and one living descendants of Curt Heinrich Brunnwirth gathered yesterday at Warden, north of Edwardsville, to celebrate his 101st birthday anniversary. Brunnwirth is the oldest resident of Madison County. His health has improved steadily in recent years, and his only physical defect is impaired sight. A special dinner was prepared for the assemblage and the old gentleman presided at the gathering with manifest pleasure.

FIVE INDICTMENTS IN KENTUCKY ROBBERY

Two Men Held Here, Woman and Daugherty Brothers Named in Louisville.

St. Louis detectives are still searching for the Daugherty brothers, Lawrence, 21, and Chester, 24, of St. Louis, who are wanted at Louisville, Ky., on suspicion of having participated in the robbery there of the Portland Bank April 6, in which the cashier was shot and $3754 stolen.

A grand jury at Louisville yesterday returned indictments against the Daugherty brothers, Pasquale and Paul Farina and Lucille Norris, 5222 Palm street, this city, charging them with robbery, shooting and wounding the cashier, assault on a depositor and shooting at E. M. Swain, president of the bank.

The Farina brothers are twins, 32 years old. They have been arrested here, and are being held for the Louisville authorities. The Norris woman was also arrested, and is at liberty under $1500 bond on another charge.

These three deny connection with the robbery, and President Swain, who was here yesterday, could not identify the Farina brothers as having been among the robbers. He did identify rogues' gallery pictures of the Daugherty brothers as two of the robbers.

The Norris woman was arrested when she received for a parcel post package containing some of the money stolen in the Louisville robbery and mailed to her.

COL. L. K. ROBBINS TO HEAD
451ST INFANTRY RESERVE

Succeeds Col. J. B. Barnes Who Has Commanded Regiment Since Organization.

The appointment of Col. Leroy K. Robbins of Webster Groves, to command the 451st Infantry Reserve, was announced in orders issued this week by Major-General George B. Duncan, commanding the Seventh Corps area.

Col. Robbins succeeds Col. John B. Barnes of Kemper Military Academy, who has commanded the regiment since its organization. The 451st regiment has 101 officers, of whom 76 live in St. Louis. Col. Robbins has been a member of the regiment and in addition has been associated with the Missouri National Guard for the last 25 years. He served with the local regiment of the guard during the Spanish-American war and on the Mexican border and commanded the 138th Infantry during the World War until transferred to the regular army. Col. Robbins will address a meeting of officers of his new command at the Elks Club next Tuesday evening.

Taxicab Owner Bet His Three Automobiles Against His Friend's Business.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The village of Metuchen, N. J., is waiting to welcome home Philip Kreps, taxicab owner, who won a bride and a bet at the same time.

Kreps was married yesterday to Miss Agatha Estelle Hollis, 41 years old, of Highland Park, by C. O. Scheiss, clerk of the marriage license bureau in St. George, Richmond, 26 hours after he had bet with William Eichbaum, that he could get married in 36 hours.

The bet was made that Kreps, who is 39, could not get married if he wanted to. Kreps who until yesterday boasted of his bachelordom, offered to bet his three taxicabs against Eichbaum's restaurant. Last night Eichbaum announced he was ready to turn the restaurant over to Kreps with his congratulations.

CHICAGO-DETROIT AIR SERVICE

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, April 10.—Chicago will be the operating base for American Airways, Ltd., the new commercial airplane venture which Edsel Ford is backing, according to Maj. Phillip G. Kemp, chairman of Mayor Dever's Aviation Committee, who announced upon his return from Detroit that service between Chicago and Detroit would be started next Monday.

The initial flight will mark the beginning of a three-times-a-week air express line between the two cities. Within a few weeks the line will be operated on a daily schedule, according to Maj. Kemp, who conferred in Detroit with William B. Stout, head of the company manufacturing planes for the project. Only freight will be carried at first, it was stated, but within a few months passenger service will be established.

Besieger Predicts Jeddah's Fall.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 10.—The newspaper at Mokattam, publishes an appeal by Ibn Saoud, who is leading a force of Wahabi tribesmen in an attempt to west the city of Jeddah, Arabia, from the troops of King Ali of the Hedjaz, in which addressing himself to Moslems throughout the world, he asserts that "Jeddah is encircled and will fall shortly." But Ibn Saoud says, pilgrims will be welcomed and their safety and comfort assured. He declares no difficulties will be encountered in pilgrimages and that the Hedjaz will be open with the Government providing facilities for pilgrims.

BALDWIN TO APPEAL FROM JAIL SENTENCE

Civil Liberties Union Head Waived Jury Trial for "Unlawful Assemblage."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 16.—Roger N. Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, who was sentenced to six months in jail yesterday, while seven other men, Paterson silk workers, were fined $50 each under a New Jersey law enacted in 1798 forbidding "unlawful assemblage," will appeal the case.

All the defendants had waived jury trials and were found guilty by Judge Delaney in Paterson, N. J., on an indictment charging that on Oct. 6 last, during a silk workers' strike, they assembled "with force and arms" and "tumultuously" in the city hall plaza.

Notice of appeal in all the cases was filed by Addison P. Rosenkrantz, attorney.

Baldwin testified he was the principal in this case and willing to assume full responsibility, Judge Delaney said. "This is rather a serious crime. We can see possibilities of serious consequences from meetings such as the defendants attempted to hold."

The Judge then turned to Baldwin.

"At the outset you were primarily at fault," he continued. "You felt a test case should be made, and this Court feels it should deal with you more severely than with the others."

Baldwin furnished $2000 bail.

The prosecutions grew out of an attempt to hold a meeting on the Paterson City Hall plaza in protest against the refusal of the Police Chief to permit the Associated Silk Workers to meet in their hall. Defense witnesses testified a Police Sergeant ordered 40 or 50 patrolmen to "Go for 'em! Break 'em up!" Baldwin testified there was no resistance and no violence except that of the police. Baldwin formerly was a social worker in St. Louis.

Serious operation avoided
Resinol healed stubborn sore

Elyria, Ohio, March 1.—"I feel it my duty and pleasure to thank you for the wonderful cure your Resinol salve has wrought for my husband, who suffered from an operation on the base of his spine four years. Several doctors said that it was a cancer and advised its removal, but it was so near the base of the brain that we feared an operation. I had found Resinol Ointment so effective for cuts, burns and similar things that I induced my husband to try that. After using only two jars of Resinol, the sore entirely healed—every trace of it has disappeared. Resinol certainly was a God-send to us!" (Signed) Mrs. E. E. Kennedy, 243 E. 8th St.

HINES ENDS FIRST SURVEY FOR RESTORATION OF DANUBE

American Dispatches Army to Co-Operate Actively in League in Vast Project.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York.

GENEVA, April 16.—Walk Hines, former Director-General of Railways of the United States, completed the preliminary survey of one of the biggest non-political jobs accepted from the League Nations by an American—restoration of 1500 miles of the Danube to its pre-war importance as a terminal waterway.

Hines, as a result of the survey conducted during the last few days, is dispatching immediately to Danube, Major Summerfield S. A., who is the first American Government employee to co-operate actively with the league. He will return to Europe in June to make a personal investigation of the river.

His great task is to harmonize the clashing interests of Rumania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Austria-Hungary and Germany. Restoration of the Danube as an artery of commerce is reported to be no negligible task, because harbors filled with silt, sandbars and reefs are interfering with commerce otherwise violating treaty provisions.

Rumania is called the greatest handicap to restoration, while Bulgaria, deprived of Trieste, and her pre-war river fleet, has been the greatest suffered loss of transportation.

Included in Hines' duties are chiefly personal investigation and recommendation to the League's Transit Commission, decision regarding the Rhine Canal to Germany.

The presence of Hines in Geneva, with former Attorney General George W. Wickesham of International Law Commission, and Dr. N. W. White of the Rockefeller Foundation, makes three prominent Americans two of them former Government officials, co-operating with the league's most important endeavors.

NEW NAVY AIR UNIFORM

Distinguishing Dress for Flying Officers.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The navy has ordered its aviation dress for the part. A new uniform has been designed to distinguish the flyers, marking a wide departure from the present attire. It will be worn by them when working with aircraft when in temporary call.

The uniform will be of jute material, the same as that used for the marine enlisted and will be foresty green like marines in winter and khaki in summer. It will include a double-breasted coat with collar of breeches which button from knee down, russet puttees, shoes, and with the stars in blue silk and the stripes indicating rank in black mohair. The shirt will be of khaki with soft collar. A belt will be worn and the cap will be of the present design except the cloth top will be of the same gauze as the uniform.

Testimony given at a hearing yesterday by those who have worked in the project was not to the public, but it is known here probably not more than $18,000 has been invested in the reduction plan. It was said the financial supporters of the plan agreed not to sell any during the three-week period. It was understood the Attorney General's office would not act during that time. Among the backers of the plan are several prominent business and professional men in this city.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 16.—The Fayetteville newspaper today announced that the new Monday and Friday editions of 14 days it would be publishing any crimes in its columns. GOLD SCHEME UNDER INQUIRY

German Chemists' Experiment Backed by Business Men.

By the Associated Press.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., April 10.—Richard Rodrian, a German chemist, today was working feverishly in a ramshackle laboratory here, determined to produce gold from the "decomposed rock" of Pinnacle Mountain within three weeks. He has promised his financial backers and representatives of the Attorney General's office that he would show them gold at the end of that period.

Testimony given at a hearing yesterday by those who had invested in the project was not made public, but it is known here that probably not more than $10,000 as yet has been invested in the gold reduction plan. It was said that the financial supporters of Rodrian agreed not to sell any stock during the three-week period and it was understood the Attorney General's office would not act during that time. Among the backers of the plan are some prominent business and professional men of this city.

BISHOP TO SUCCEED HEAD OF RUSSIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH

Dr. Tikhon to Be Buried Sunday Under Altar of Donskoy Monastery.

By the Associated Press
MOSCOW, April 10.—Metropolitan Peter, chief assistant to the Rev. Dr. Tikhon, who died Wednesday, will be the new head of the Russian Orthodox Church until the question of a permanent incumbent has been settled. Dr. Tikhon will be buried Sunday morning under the altar of the largest of the six churches within the Donskoy Monastery.

The Living Church of Russia will not be represented at the funeral, it is announced.

Dr. Tikhon's last words were: "What time is it?" "It is midnight," the physician whispered to him, whereupon the patriarch replied, "I am ready. Good-by to all my beloved flock. I shall find peace at last."

DEFERRED CALENDARCounsel for Defendant Asserts Verdict Is Triumph for Scientific Treatment of Abnormal.By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Seventeen-year-old Dorothy Ellingson, the bronze-haired girl whose pursuit of "jazz" culminated last January in a quarrel in which she killed her mother in a bedroom of their home, has been taken to the State Asylum for the Insane at Napa. A jury in Superior Court adjudged her insane yesterday.

Thus the murder charge was shelved. The jury impaneled to try the case excused until next Monday, will be formally dismissed then and the matter will be placed on the "deferred" calendar, perhaps for all time. Should she ever be pronounced sane, the murderer may be tried.

The girl had been bitterly opposed to the sanity proceedings started by her attorneys. She had denounced them in open court once threatened to choke one of them for "telling lies," and another time threw water at them.

Paints on Hearing Verdict.

When the verdict was announced after 45 minutes of deliberation, she fainted without uttering a sound. When she was revived she sobbed convulsively in the arms of jail matrons and was not able to leave the courtroom for half an hour.

She was brought into court for final commitment late yesterday. She had regained her composure and sat steadily while Judge Harold Louderback pronounced the words committing her. The procedure required less than three minutes. Within another hour she was on her way to the State institution at Napa.

Statement by Her Counsel.

The girl's attorneys, Alexander Mooskin, chief counsel; Sylvester J. McAtee and Walter McGovern issued a statement in which they said:

"When we first entered upon the defense of Dorothy Ellingson, we were immediately impressed with the fact that she was possessed of a very unusual mentality. She failed to co-operate with us from the beginning. A doubt naturally arose in our minds as to her mental condition, and we thereupon sought the advice of leading psychiatrists and alienists. After a great number of physical and mental tests, these scientists came to the conclusion that the defendant was insane.

She was insane.

Beginning of New Era.
The verdict at the hands of the special jury is the greatest victory for the scientific treatment of abnormal persons ever recorded in California. It will mean the beginning of a new era in the treatment of those who are mentally sick.

"While the charge of murder against her probably will not be dismissed, we do not anticipate that she will ever be called upon to face a jury on that charge. From the information furnished us it will be many years, if ever, before she is cured of her present mental condition."

The sanity jury contained nine men and three women. The verdict requiring an agreement of nine, was voted by 11. One man dissented.

A gasoline launch motor valued at $140 was stolen last night from the boat store of William Grossmann, 1630 Pine street, by several men in an automobile who smashed a glass window to enter the store.

GRADE PAPER
MADE FROM STRAW

French Inventor Ten Years in Perfecting Successful Process.

to the Post-Dispatch
NEW YORK, April 10.—From Europe recently came the announcement that science had produced an effective process by which the waste straw of food crops, such as wheat, barley, oats, rice and rye, may be utilized as a substitute for the wood pulp from which 80 per cent of the world's paper is made.

The process has been developed by De Vaine, a French inventor, who depends upon a method of heat-treating the hard brittleness of straw which previously had made impossible the use of straw fibers in the manufacture of printing and writing papers.

Process Is In Use.
The De Vaine process has been installed successfully in a dozen paper and pulp mills in European countries and plans are now under way to establish a large experimental plant in Canada, where the wheat crop will supply an abundance of raw material, writes Burke in the May number of the Journal of Science Monthly.

Canadian wheat straw, it is announced, already has been employed effectively in the manufacture of paper by means of the new process in Europe. The paper produced in the mills where the process has been installed is said to be excellent in quality, a special method producing a pure paper when desired.

Paper from straw, of course, is nothing new. Straw paper was made in the United States a half century ago, also in Europe. Straw was used also in the manufacture of paper and several types of paper wrapping paper. But paper made from straw fibers, matching in quality the paper manufactured from wood pulp, is a distinct novelty and a successful process that it is possible is bound to prove of tremendous significance, not only to the paper industry, but also in an economic standpoint.

Demand May Deplete Forest.

Foresters and economists long have maintained that, despite efforts to replant woodlands of the world, the forests eventually will prove insufficient to supply the demand for wood pulp for paper manufacture. Just how terrific is the demand is shown by the fact that the United States alone requires 1,500,000 tons of paper every year. Fifty years ago this country's annual consumption of paper was only 500,000 tons; in other 50 years, it is predicted, it will be 20,000,000.

Ten years ago De Vaine attacked
the problem of utilizing crop straw, mainly burned as waste, in paper manufacture, and advises from Europe indicate that he has solved
the problem.

COMMUNISM MEETS LITTLE SUCCESS IN THE BALKANS

Yugoslavs Prepare to Shift Their Enlightenment Program to the East.

Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. (Copyright, 1925.)

VIENNA, April 10.—The Third International cannot conceal its disappointment at the setback it has suffered in the Balkans in the last six months.

Large sums have been spent in headquarters at Trieste and Vienna and tons of literature have been shipped from Vienna, but the result has been the opposite of what the soviets hoped.

The Croats definitely broke what relations they had with the soviet section of the Third International, formally recognizing King Alexander and offered to cooperate with Premier Pashitch.

Bulgaria definitely suppressed attempt to establish a soviet government, the ringleaders and recalled the plenipotentiaries with the Hankow Government.

Yugoslavia halted the action of the immigrants who were planning a coup against Bulgaria.

It is in Albania that the soviets have their greatest chagrin over all. They accuse the Entente, especially the British Minister of foreign Premier Fannell
and the soviet military attache, Kowalewski, who was sent to the Albanians to organize communist military affairs. Fannell, who was in Adrianople, not Albania, was accused by the soviets, who say he was their greatest aid for the Balkans.

The soviets also accuse the Serbs of organizing the Ahmed Bey movement, claiming that the Serbs gave Zogu 1000 regulars, 1000 reservists, 5000 Wrangell
officers and 1000 Serb officers, and that mountain cavalry and machine guns were supplied by the Serbs.

The fact is that Zogu easily carried out the revolt against Fannell without such aid. The Serbs were not to see the change, however, with Zogu in power there is a chance of Albania forming a new communist doorway to Milan.

The soviets are preparing to expand their activities to the East, and agreements obtained in Russia with the states bordering on the south.

U. S. NOT SUSPICIOUS OF OIL CLAUSES IN TREATY

Reported That Japanese-Russian Fact Has Caused Worry in Itself Arouses Concern.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Published reports that the Washington Government views with suspicion oil concession provisions of the new Russo-Japanese treaty are causing concern to high officials of the administration. It can be stated on unquestionable authority that such publications are without foundation.

The question as to the nature and purpose of the oil concession granted to Japanese interests by the treaty has come before the Washington Government only on the strength of briefs submitted in behalf of the previous concession obtained by the Sinclair Oil interests in 1922 from the Far Eastern republic in Siberia, which now is part of the soviet Russian Government. The Sinclair concession recently was held invalid by courts in Russia.

Examination of the supplementary conditions of that concession by Government officials here has disclosed that it was unquestionably entered into by the Far Eastern republic for the specific purpose of employing it as a leverage to compel diplomatic relations between Soviet Russia and the United States.

The concession itself covered some 500 square miles in Northern Sakhalin. It was negotiated during the period of Japanese military occupation of that island and is an exclusive concession so far as the definite territory is concerned.

Coupled to the Sinclair concession, however, are two clauses which are regarded by high administration officials as disclosing the real purpose of the Russian authorities in granting the concession.

It is because of these stipulations that the Washington Government has looked with suspicion on the motives of the Sinclair concession ever since it obtained copies of the agreement.

BANKER WITH 260-ROOM HOUSE WAS HAPPIEST IN BASEMENT

Late So Everard Hambro Spent Many Hours Pottering In Work Shop There.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 25.—Sir Everard Hambro, a director of the Bank of England, who died recently at the age of 55, was owner of one of the largest residences in the world, but he never called it a palace or a castle, preferring it to be known always merely as his home. The Hambro house in Devonshire was known to the neighbors as Milton Abbey, getting its name from the fact that originally it was a monastery. It was remodeled many years ago by Sir Everard and, taking in all the old nooks of the ancient buildings, was found to have about 250 rooms.

Sir Everard was extremely simple in his tastes, and one of his favorite remarks to his intimate friends was that his home contained about 250 rooms more than he required. Outside of his library, the favorite haunt of Sir Everard was the basement. Here he had fixed up a workshop and spent many hours a day pottering with hammers and saws and other tools used by workers in wood. The banker frequently remarked that he had always, in a way, regretted that he had not been a cabinet maker by trade.

FIVE NEW GIRL SCOUT TROOPS ORGANIZED HERE

Five new girl scout troops have been organized as a result of the leaders' training course which was given here during March by the national organization, according to a report made to the Community Fund yesterday by Miss Eleanor Piper, local director. There are 700 registered girl scouts, with 14 new troops forming.

A class in child care being conducted for the scouts by Miss Louise Knapp, assistant superintendent of the Municipal Nurses, has 28 enrolled. The home nursing class, which Mrs. Maude Allender, visiting nurse supervisor, is holding, has 20 members.

The two leaders' training courses, conducted at Webster College and Harriet's Teachers' College, during March, had a total attendance of 125 girls interested in work for younger girls. Twenty-three students who took the course have enrolled as active girl scout leaders, and many others had been enrolled before attending the class.

BURGLARS LOOT STORE OF

CLOTHING VALUED AT $4000

Clothing valued at approximately $4000 was stolen from the Bagby Credit Clothing Co., 5829 Easton Avenue, last night, by burglars who forced open a rear door and hauled away the loot, presumably in a truck.

The burglary was discovered early today by a policeman, who, while passing the place on his beat, noticed a stack of dresses, mackintoshes and trousers on the ground in front of the store. He summoned Paul M. Bagby, the proprietor, and an inventory disclosed that 80 men's suits, 79 dresses, 25 coats and six women's suits had been taken. Seventeen of the dresses were found in the pile of loot outside, which the burglars are believed to have abandoned when the officer approached.

Poincare Appeals for Sac
Union and Francois-Ma
sal Says Government Has Lost Confidence.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 13.—The Herriot government tendered its resignation to President Doumergue in the Palace of the Elysee tonight after it had been defeated in the Senate, on a vote of confidence 128 to 134, at the end of six hours' debate on the financial question.

The Government has been wavering for days because of disclosures of inflation and Government borrowing and the final push was given it this evening when Poincare carried the Senate, with him after a bitter duel words with Herriot over his Government's record.

This was the third time French parliamentary history has been overtaken by a Government that had been overthrown.

"If this be war, let us have it right here," said Herriot, arising in the Senate to reply to the most scathing arraignment his Government has been subjected to during his life of 19 months.

The debate had had the Senate in a state of excitement as seldom seen among the staid and serious.

M. Francois Marsal, former Finance Minister, reviewed the financial documents in the Chamber in which he had charged that the blame for the financial difficulties now facing the country rested upon the shoulders of previous administrations since the war.

Bank Figures Quoted.
Never under Millerand, Briand or Poincare did the Bank of France exceed the legal limit of circulation," the ex-Finance Minister declared. Poincare interrupted with the remark:

"I can vouch especially for 1923 and the first five months of 1924.

Figures from the Bank of France and the Ministry of Finance were quoted by Francois Marsal to prove his assertion.

"It was Premier Herriot's internal policy in January and February," he added, "which provoked the crisis in confidence culminating in the exportation of capital and the present precarious condition of the French treasury.

He pointed out that despite $100,000,000 Morgan loans, the dollar was quoted at 15 francs when Herriot assumed power, while now it was approaching 20.

Impossible to Float Loans.

The wealth of France in state bonds and securities, he charged, had decreased 22,000,000,000 francs since the Herriot Government took power and it had become impossible to float any sort of a French loan abroad, even one for the cost of Paris.

The ex-Minister read a letter from Gov. Robineau of the Bank of France to Finance Minister Clement on Dec. 29, 1924, warning the latter that the legal limit of circulation was being reached and entreated him to take measures to prevent inflation, which would be ruinous to the country's credit. This warning, he said, was repeated in letters of Feb. 5 and 8.

Francois Marsal called attention to that on April 2, when a circular already had exceeded the legal limit by 2,000,000,000 francs. Premier Herriot in the Senate solemnly declared his Government opposed all inflation.

The former Minister concluded by quoting M. Chamerat's "Invention" of a few days ago, in which he said that inflation could be curbed by a new Government, and considered a critic against it.

"Neither inflation nor any other fiscal measure can present a Government which can restore the lost confidence of the country in the Government," he said. "A government which can do this is the only one which can govern France." M. Chamerat, he said, was right.

Senator Coquelin, during his speech, when attacking Premier Herriot, of whom he was a member, said: "He is a man who can do nothing."

"I can witness," said the Senator, "one of the greatest internal authorities of the modern

sal Says Government Has Lost Confidence.

PARIS, April 10.—The Herriot government tendered its resignation to President Doumergue at the Palace of the Elysee tonight, after it had been defeated in the Senate on a vote of confidence, 152 to 134, at the end of six hours' debate on the financial question.

The correspondence between Mr.

Coolidge and Solon Polo, president of the Peruvian defense commission, was made public within a few hours after the reply of the arbitrator had been delivered to the Peruvian Embassy.

The Peruvian memorial devote several pages to an argument that the arbitrator's action in ordering determination of sovereignty in Tacna and Arica through a plebicrite was the consequence of an error of translation which "runs through the entire opinion and award." The reference is to the English translation of clause 3 of the treaty of Ancón under which the two countries agreed in 1884

that a plebiscite should be held either "at" or "after" the expiration of 10 years.

Use of Word Unimportant.

Answering the Peruvian contention that the translation "at" should have governed the award the President says:

"The translation complained of is the translation submitted by Peru

in her case, and in the opinion of the arbitrator fairly interprets the meaning of the passage in question.

The problem before the arbitrator was one of substance of construction rather than translation. It goes far beyond the reasoning of the arbitrator and largely academic question of the use of any particular English word in translation of the clause, whether that word be "after," "at," "on," "upon,"

all of which are used at various places in the Peruvian documents.

"It may also be said that the award of the arbitrator is in entire harmony with the practices of construction laid down upon the treaty by the parties themselves.

"I can vouch especially for 1923

and the first five months of 1924

figures from the Bank of France and the Ministry of Finance were quoted by Francois-

Marie to prove his assertion.

"It was Premier Herriot's internal policy in January and February," he added, "which provoked the crisis in confidence, culminating in the exportation of capital and the present precarious condition of the French treasury."

He pointed out that despite the $100,000,000 Morgan loan, the dollar was quoted at 16 francs when

Herriot assumed power, while now

it was approaching 20.

Impossible to Float Loans.

The wealth of France in state

bonds and securities, he charged after the Herriot Government took power and it had become impossible to float any sort of a French loan abroad, even one for the city of Paris.

The ex-Minister read a letter from Gov. Robineau of the Bank of France to Finance Minister

Clement on Dec. 29, 1924, warning the latter that the legal limit of circulation was being reached

and entreating him to take measures to prevent inflation, which would be ruinous to the country's credit. This warning, he said, was repeated in letters of Feb. 5 and 12.

Francois-Marie called attention to that on April 2, when the peru already had exceeded the legal limit by 2,000,000,000

francs, Premier Herriot in the Senate openly declared his Government would oppose all inflation.

"I am sorry," Minister concluded

by quoting M. Chomette's "invention" of a few days ago in which he said that inflation would be considered a crime against the nation.

Neither inflation, forced loan nor any other fiscal measure the Government may pursue can restore the lost confidence of the country in the mens' Marsal, declared. "The Senate

Senate Quotes Coolidge.

During his speech, when accusing Premier Herriot of not being able to govern France," M. Francois-Marie declared.

The President's reply deals with these elements of the Peruvian memorial with the statement that the arbitrator "notes with satisfaction"

that the President of the Peruvian defense commission "gives formal assurance" that he will not fall to carry out the award.

Request: Made Too Late.

A general reply is made to the Peruvian contention that acts of terrorism have been committed under Chilean authority, the President pointing out that these should be brought to the attention of the plebiscitary commission when it has been constituted and adding again that "the award is final and without appeal."

The communication pointed out that this action agreed with the terms of submission as signed by the two Governments and also with the general principles of international law.

"This reply well might end here,"

the President continued, in his note yesterday, but he added that, in deference to the nations involved and to the importance of a correct

understanding of the award, he deemed it advisable "to make certain additional observations."

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Secretary of the Ballot.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I WENT to my polling place to vote on April 7 and had an experience which I never had in voting until I became a resident of St. Louis. When I approached the judges and clerks' table for a ballot I was asked my name and address, which is O.K.; but when the clerk gave me my ballot I noticed that he marked with a pencil on the stub from which the ballot was torn the number 323. This number was also placed with my name on the records. I then proceeded to a booth (that is what they call it but which it isn't) to vote. After I had voted I folded my ballot and walked over to the ballot box to drop it in. Just as I was going to drop it in the box a clerk snatched it out of my hand and he told me not to put that ballot into the box until it was numbered. He then marked it 323, like the stub and record was marked, and put it into the box.

I protested against this practice of indexing the vote and assured them if this did not make it possible to check up and see how a person voted. They admitted that this could be done, but said they had something else to do besides looking about to see how people voted.

As far as I can see there is no privacy to voting in this manner. In addition to indexing the vote, I find that the booths are a joke, being about one foot deep and nothing to keep prying eyes from gazing over your shoulders to see how to mark your ballot. F. B. SICO.

The numbering of your ballot and the placing it in the ballot box by the judge of election was in strict conformity with the election laws. Section 4589, describing the manner of voting, after telling how the voter should mark and fold his ballot, says: "He shall then hand the ballot to the judge of election selected to take the ballots, who shall number the ballot and deposit it in the ballot box." Your complaint about the inadequacy of the so-called booths, however, is justified. The law requires (section 4566) that the booths shall be so constructed that the voter can mark his ballot "screened from observation." This provision is no longer carried out.—Editor Post-Dispatch.

Did Your Vote Count?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

PEOPLE don't seem able to understand this election of Victor Miller. Most of it is in the voters not marking ballots correctly. In the Twenty-third precinct of the Twenty-eighth Ward we had ballots marked "X" in a Republican circle. Victor Miller's name was scratched and Mr. Lowe written in. While this plainly indicates the intention of the voter by law, it is a scratched ballot and in the above precinct was not counted. These ballots being counted would have given Mr. Lowe a majority instead of 4 majorities for Miller in that precinct. This same thing occurring in the other 623 precincts of the city and thrown out as in this precinct very plainly explains Miller's election in my opinion.

Defrauding the Blind.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE Missouri Association and Commission for the Blind sell all their products through blind salesmen. The seeing men going around selling brooms, rugs, etc., representing themselves as selling products of the blind are frauds, and are not authorized by any blind organization in St. Louis or Missouri.

Ellington Insanity Trial.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTICE that the trial of Dorothy Ellington, the girl who killed her mother, was suspended for an inquiry into her sanity. The girl herself protested violently against this procedure, going so far as to revile and attack her own attorney. Her attitude influenced the Court not at all, and the absurd inquiry proceeded. As in many other cases, the pompous alienists paraded their polysyllabic words before a jury while the girl pleaded to testify in her own behalf.

It is positively sickening, this assumption that a person to commit murder must be insane. Of course, there are degrees of insanity, but the kind of insanity that prompts a man to kill is usually superinduced by himself. Psychiatrists make me tired when they so far overestimate their young science as to introduce it in a court of law. They know pitifully little about insanity. It is as mysterious as electricity. Why must they continue to dogmatize about it on the witness stand? Perhaps the "chief reason is because they need the money, but that reason should not impress courts or juries. Criminal procedure is ineffective enough without being cut-tered by the absurdities of alienists.

THE POLICE CHANGES.

"The board saw fit to do it" is the only reason given by Col. Allen C. Orrick, President of the Board of Police Commissioners, for the changes in the police force announced yesterday. Chief O'Brien was demoted to a captaincy, Chief of Detectives Hongland to a Lieutenantancy and Inspector Vasey was dismissed. Capt. Gerk was appointed Chief of Police, Lieutenant of Detectives and Lieutenant Wetzel Inspector in Vasey's place.

No charges were publicly announced against any of the men, and so far as we know no charges of misconduct or inefficiency lie against them. All have good police records. Former Chief O'Brien, the oldest in point of service, has an exceptionally good record. And so have the men who have been promoted. All of them have bright marks for police work.

In the absence of further reasons, we assume that the changes were made for the good of the service in the judgment of the Commissioners. They probably thought that changes at the top would put the force on its toes and result in greater activity. We credit the new board with the intention of giving the people of St. Louis the best possible service in the Police Department. There is no evidence of any other intention.

There is only one thing the people want and expect from the Police Department, that is an honest and efficient enforcement of law and order. They want the criminal gangs broken up and the criminals brought to punishment. This can be done only by the efficient co-operation of the law officers and the courts.

WHAT FRANCE NEEDS.

The French Government needs money so badly that Premier Herriot proposes a voluntary capital levy of 10 per cent on the capital of its citizens. Other sources of borrowing have been drained. Bondholders are anxious. Relations between the Government and the Bank of France, which has advanced great sums, have reached the point of scandal. The bank's books are in a precarious condition.

What is the matter with France? Of a domestic debt of 278 billion francs, 160 billions have been borrowed since the war. While other countries have been busy licking their wounds, France seems to have been putting salt in hers. In addition to the internal debts, a good share of which soon matures, France's foreign debt has reached staggering proportions.

It seems that the nation which showed such marvelous recuperative powers after the Franco-Prussian War of 1870, which it lost, is unable to recuperate from the war of 1914-1918, which it won. The comparison, of course, is not quite fair, for the war of 1870 was a skirmish compared to the last one, yet the old vitality of the nation seems to have been weakened.

Hatred and fear of Germany has resulted in the maintenance of the most powerful military force in the world at a terrific expenditure. This fact alone is largely responsible for the present impasse. Change of ministry has not changed the underlying philosophy of the nation. Socialistic Herriot is as ineffective as was Reactionary Poitevin.

What France needs is a change of heart.

CAL COOLIDGE, BOULEVARDIER.

Washington is preparing for the annual Easter parade. Lovely dames and gallant squires will be ready in their finest. Church bells will summon most of them for their annual period of worship. Having performed their religious duties the gay and the noble will repair to boulevards if the weather be fair, allowing the sunshine to touch colors splendid and cloths of expensive sheen.

Who is this who comes down the avenue so modestly, amid the preening and swagger of the Easter crowd? By his hat they will know him. It is last year's hat, reblocked at a cost estimated by Washington correspondents to be not more than $250. By his suit they will know him; a suit of good American cloth made up at a cost, also estimated by Washington correspondents, of $65. Those who mistake hat and suit cannot fail to identify him if they but glance at his shoes. Short days ago he had them half-soled, the report is. The soles will be a trifle squeaky mayhap, but they will carry him along the boulevard as well as the newest and most costly leather.

He will be bowed to, for he is of high estate. Some will say, "Good afternoon, Mr. President." Others may only think as he goes by. Whatever may be thought, he is no hypocrite, this boulevardier. "Economy" is his watchword, and it will sound even on Easter Day. Squeak, squeak!

ROLAND HAYES.

Roland Hayes a few years ago was a waiter at the Pennfennis Club in Louisville. Just the other day he received from the hands of Walter Damrosch the Spingarn medal, which is awarded annually for the highest and noblest achievement by an American negro. With the medal went a most impressive tribute to the singer from the lips of Mr. Damrosch.

Hayes inherited a marvelous singing voice and the deep musical instinct of his race. Even with this equipment, however, he had to fight his way to top rank over the steep barriers of race prejudice. Now when he sings the songs of Shubert and Schumann, concert halls are crowded and applause is unstinted.

Upon the foundation of a natural feeling for music he has superimposed a technique of utmost cultivation.

Hayes is the eleventh negro to receive the Spingarn medal, and perhaps none more richly deserved this high honor. He is an inspiration to his race.

TARIFF PATRIOTISM.

Representative Dyer addressed a luncheon meeting of the Trade Club this week on the subject of China as a trade field for the absorption of the over-production of American manufactures. China, when educated to utilize the products of our civilization offers a population of 400,000,000 for exploitation.

These and many other points Mr. Dyer explained with the enthusiasm worthy of a great cause. But one matter he failed to explain. He failed to make clear how American products in China can successfully compete with the pauper labor of Europe. There are no trade barriers over there to spare American labor from degrading competition. And yet Mr. Dyer and our manufacturers are keen for China's markets.

Mr. Dyer did mention that American firms in China worked under a handicap in competing with foreign firms. British tradesmen, for instance, enjoyed a sort of monopoly by remission of taxes on incomes made in China. Mr. Dyer endeavored to put through similar preferential legislation for American traders and, after some rebuff, finally secured what he calls a "real, genuine piece of legislation."

But nothing was said about making it possible for Americans to compete with the "pauper labor of Europe." How come? The practice of American producers make me tired when they so far overestimate their young science as to introduce it in a court of law. They know pitifully little about insanity. It is as mysterious as electricity. Why must they continue to dogmatize about it on the witness stand? Perhaps the "chief reason is because they need the money, but that reason should not impress courts or juries. have the product of the same mills for less. This is protection from the pauper labor of Europe. This is tariff patriotism.

THE GAG HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD.

The statement issued from Montreal and the article written by Count Karolyi for the Post-Dispatch in Quebec, by a peculiar irony of fate, fall within the month when Americans are celebrating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the opening of our war of liberation from the English crown. Among other things it was a war for free speech, free press and free assembly and to establish a Government friendly to the politically persecuted.

Now, when the liberator of a monarchist-ridden nation of Europe goes forth to tell the world of the vicissitudes of democracy in his country, he finds a free forum in France, a free forum in England, a free forum in Canada and a muzzle in the first great land dedicated to the principles of freedom.

What was it that Count Karolyi had to say which frightened our State Department into an abandonment of one of the most cherished of American traditions? It was simply this: That the Hungarian Horthy regime, whose tales our State Department chose to believe, is a part of the plan by which the Hapsburgs and monarchists hope to regain their pre-war power in Central Europe, re-establish the old German Empire and restore the frontiers which existed prior to 1914. The money which America has loaned Hungary, says the Count, is being used in imperialistic programs certain to bring war, and within six months Hungary will be seeking new American loans to carry on the mission of reaction, imperialism and war.

Naturally, the intelligence carried across the Atlantic by Karolyi was not at all to the liking of the monarchist Hungarians, and they chose Washington's tenderest nerve as the point of pressure whereby to gag the Count. They whispered "bolshievenism" as describing the Count's political faith and undoubtedly counted on Yankee circumspection to remember that we have money invested in Hungary.

Count Karolyi, with consummate good taste, refrains from attacking our Government. He says it was misinformed. It must be held to a heavier charge than that: It did not want to be impartially informed.

Whatever its wisdom or un wisdom in smashing the principle of free speech, the folly of the policy has been proved in the result. Whereas, as the Count admits himself, had he been unopposed, his would have been a small voice crying in the wilderness, the upheaval of popular resentment toward the amazing policy of the United States Government has given the Count, from his asylum under the British King, an audience of millions south of the St. Lawrence and a broadcasting power which, like the gunshots of Lexington, will reach around the world.

THE BEHEMOTH OF SWAT.

Casey, the mighty hero of Mudville, was a second rater compared with Babe Ruth, the blood-sweating Behemoth of SWAT. When Babe swings his war club against a pitched ball, the whole world cheers. When Babe has a fainting spell, the whole world groans. Jack Dempsey comes and Paavo Nurmi goes, but Babe Ruth remains in the headlines. Never was there anything like it.

More important than the fall of empires to fifty million Americans is the measurement of Ruth's waist line at the beginning of each season. For here, alas, is the symbol of his mortality. Babe's battle is not against dazzling curves, mocking slow balls, the smoke of the fast ones which hop, but against Adipose Tissue.

He seems to be losing the fight. Each year Babe's famous torso gets portlier and portlier. Soon he will be a perfect example of the aldermanic type, soon he will swing clumsily on his axis and the ball will not leave the park. Then will the joy go out of America. Then will life be forlorn.

The issue's clear, they mattered not, Our Victor loudly spoke of laws; He led the boys on false trials hot, A trick he learned from Charley Dawes; Oh, well, accept the slings of chance.

Miller won because the people were sick of the conditions in government that have developed under long continued Republican machine control of the city hall. They wanted a new deal. Miller, who was denounced as a "wild man" represented the spirit of revolt. The majority wanted a man who would kick the table over. The people of St. Louis think they have him in Miller—and from his record they probably are right.

BUREAUCRATIC CRUELTY.

From the Waterbury Republican.

In the case of Charles Chaplin's mother, whom the Federal Immigration Bureau is trying to deport, we have a shining example of formal legalism gone blind and senseless. Mrs. Chaplin, an elderly woman, was admitted to the United States four years ago as a visitor, privileged to stay one year with her son. The ground on which the present attempt to deport her is being prosecuted is that she has a dangerous disease. Mr. Chaplin and his brother concede that their mother is ill not only physically but mentally. Her deportation would probably result in her death. If she were permitted to remain permanently in America, in order that she might be consoled by the companionship of her son, it would be simple to have her as cared for as to prevent any communication of her malady, whatever it may be. If it is so grave as the apprehension of immigration officials would indicate, it seems questionable if they ought not to be impeached and dismissed for having let Mrs. Chaplin into the country at all.

The committee in charge of the dinner announces that admission cards are being held for those who desire to attend but who may not have been included on the mailing list for invitations.

The mailing list was compiled in advance, the committee said, since no one need wait for a formal invitation to get tickets to the dinner. The executive secretary of the Advertising Club will gladly supply them at his office in the City Club Building.

to Germany. He had been an invalid for eight years. The family was in poverty. Mrs. Herschenknecht was working as janitress.

Miller won because the people were sick wanted a new deal. Miller, who was are right.

HERIOT'S POLICY
HOTLY ASSAILED
IN FRENCH SENATE

someone else wants to proceed with this, let him go ahead."

Ex-Premier Poincare then took the rostrum amid great excitement.

Poincare Assails Herriot.

Poincare flayed the Herriot Government for having told the Senate as late as April 2 that inflation would not be resorted to for the Treasury when at that moment, he said, more than a billion excess in bank notes already was in the Government's coffers.

The ex-Premier concluded with a stirring appeal for a sacred union in the interests of France. He was cheered by practically the entire Senate. Premier Herriot said silence replied.

The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies tonight finally presented a separate bill to the Chamber ratifying the Government's convention with the Bank of France increasing the circulation and State advances four billion francs each, but providing that a financial relief measure must be promulgated before July 15. This separation of inflation from the forced loan will be discussed in the Chamber tomorrow.

By ARNO DOSSE FLEUROT, Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1924, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, April 10.—Angered by continuous attacks against his Government, Premier Herriot put squarely before the Chamber of Deputies the issue whether he will remain or resign.

The Chamber gave him a vote of confidence last night, 291 to 242. The majority was diminished by defection of the Left Democratic group.

A six-hour debate in the Chamber between Herriot and Maurice Bokanowski, a former Poincare Minister, consisted of Herriot placing the blame for France's financial difficulties on his predecessors and in Bokanowski's heating on Herriot.

De Monzie's Plan Dead.

As for the forced plan of De Monzie, the Minister of Finance, it has virtually disappeared and the substitute scheme evolved by M. Violette, reporter of the Chamber Finance Committee, has already, or will shortly, meet the same fate.

M. Violette's scheme, which was distributed to the committeemen based on three principles—complete cleansing of the political situation without resort to inflation; contribution by capital of the premium necessary to restore financial values, and the avoidance of any declaration or arbitrary procedure to determine the status of fortunes of individuals.

NEGRO IS GIVEN 10 YEARS FOR PART IN $300 HOLDUP

Court Had Recommended Life Sentence Against Ex-Convict as an Habitual Criminal.

Sam Hall, a negro, 27 years old, was given 10 years in prison by a Circuit Court jury in a sealed verdict opened yesterday after a trial for highway robbery Wednesday. The verdict was reached Wednesday night, but it was not opened until the arrival of Judge Utter yesterday afternoon.

Hall was identified as one of two robbers who took $300 from Ben Bierwies in his grocery at 234 Eugenia street, Nov. 22, last. Having served a previous penitentiary term, he was charged as an habitual criminal and a life sentence was recommended by the Court, but this injunction was disregarded by the jury.

Hall said he was visiting friends at the time of the robbery, but offered no witnesses to prove it. James French, a negro, charged jointly with him, was acquitted recently on an alibi.

ECONOMY PROGRAM EXTENDED

Local Federal Agencies Asked to Minimize Expenses.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Coolidge's economy program has been extended to local Federal agencies throughout the country.

The executive's advisers in Washington, in addition to their efforts to cut the cost of operating the various branches of the Government here, have had their attention directed to the feasibility of abolishing some and consolidating others of about 40 independent commissions having more or less expensive payrolls. In addition, business organizations formed by budget co-operation in the Federal agencies in all parts of the country were asked to work out plans looking to local economies in line with the President's program which officials hope will be reflected in estimates for next year's appropriations now being formulated.

"Bed Sheet Bill" to Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 10.—The Michigan Legislature's "bed sheet bill," providing that 99-inch sheets be used by all hotels of the State passed the House yesterday following a speech by its author, Mrs. Cora Anderson of L'Anse, the only woman member of the assembly. Mrs. Anderson said the 99-inch length is necessary to permit a 12-inch foldback of the sheet over the blankets.

Judge T. A. Fritchey, 70, Dies.

OLNEY, Ill., April 10.—Judge T. A. Fritchey, 70 years old, died here today of apoplexy. He was prominently identified with Southern Illinois politics for 40 years.

TRUST FUND GUARDIAN FOR MRS. OSER NAMED

M'Cormack Obtains Appointment for Daughter in $8,000,000 Legacy.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 10.—Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the Executive Board of the International Harvester Co., in the Supreme Court here, yesterday obtained appointment of guardian for his daughter, Mathilda McCormick Oser and his 11-months-old granddaughter, Anita Oser, both of Berne, Switzerland, in connection with the accounting suit brought recently by the Equitable Trust Co.

The action was brought by the trust company for permission to have its accounts approved as trustee of a deed of trust established by John D. Rockefeller in 1917 for the benefit of his daughter, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick of Chicago, former wife of McCormick. The trust fund consisted originally of stock in the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, valued at $1,200,000. Its present value is about $8,000,000. Mrs. McCormick was given permission to turn the principal of the trust over to her children in her will, a right which she has forsaken.

The petition for the appointment of guardian for Mrs. Oser and her child said that their interests may be materially affected by the court proceedings, especially since Anita Oser, "upon the happening of certain contingencies," would be entitled to the entire trust fund. Justice Delehanty named as guardian Robert G. Mead, New York attorney, when affidavits of Mr. and Mrs. Oser were presented consenting to the appointment.

LONDON STREETS STILL OPEN TO LIVESTOCK

Correspondence of the Associated Press
LONDON, March 24.—The custom of driving pigs, sheep and cattle through the streets, a practice begun centuries ago when London was but a village, is still being carried on. However, it is seldom that the public generally witnesses this sight as the work is done during the early hours of the morning.

A herd of cattle, delayed on its way to the market, got into a traffic jam recently in Holborn, one of the city's main thoroughfares, and extra policemen had to be called to assist the drivers in their task of getting the animals started again. The present-day city regulations provide that livestock can be driven through the streets only between midnight and 6 o'clock in the morning.

SOVIET OFFICIALS ARRESTED

By the Associated Press
BAKU, Azerbaijan, April 10.—About a dozen officials of the Nakhichevan soviet republic, including the Commissioners of Finance, Justice, Agriculture and Internal Affairs have been arrested on charges made by a commission appointed to inquire into the affairs of the republic by M. Rykoff, President of the Council of Commissioners at Moscow.

The commission found that the business of the republic, which lies between Armenia and Persia which is allied with Azerbaijan, is "conducted in a most loose, disgraceful manner" and that many Russians identified with the old czarist regime have been given lucrative positions in the Government to the detriment of the peasantry and workers. The commission also has ordered the arrest of the chairman of the central co-operative organization and 25 former landlords who occupy prominent positions in state institutions.

Credit in Storm Area Planned.

CHICAGO, April 18.—The Chicago Association of Commerce has urged that the utmost consideration in the matter of credit be extended to the sufferers from the tornado of three weeks ago in Southern Illinois, and announced today that an investigation of business conditions will be conducted in Murphysboro, McLeansboro, De Soto, West Frankfort and other places in the tornado zone. Kenor Weld departed last night to conduct the survey. Reports to the association said that in many places complete stocks of goods were ruined without possibility of recovery either through insurance or other means.

St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 1924.

Dr. C. Matthew Coe, 591 Pine St.

Dear Dr. Coe: Just a few thankful words to let you know that I am getting along fine since you treated me. I can't express how thankful I am to you. Dr. Coe, I owe everything to you, because you brought happiness to my home and children.

Before you treated and cured me Dec. 21, 1924 Dr. Coe, I weighed 145 pounds and now I weigh 140 pounds and I eat and sleep and work better. I am a moulder and when I went to work, I just couldn't work. They told me that I don't want to work and I just couldn't work. So now they say they are all surprised how I can work. Before I was cured I made $15.00 a week and now $22.00 a week and feel fine.

Dr. Coe you can publish this letter and I'll be glad to tell anyone about my case. I'll recommend you Dr. Coe, and praise you as long as I live. God bless you for everything you have done for me. And I will thank God for the day I saw your advertisement.

Sugar Workers' Strike Ends.
HAVANA, April 16.—The strike of the sugar cane growers at Central Chapparral and Central Delicias

Passport Swindle Exposed.
By Radio to the Post-Dispatch, and the Chicago Daily News.
CHICAGO, April 10.—The arrest and conviction of four swindlers by the Vienna police has exposed one of the European ends of "boot-legging emigrants" to America.

The four, who declared themselves to be a merchant, an electrician, a gardener and an artist, apparently traveled between Vienna and Hungary selling false passports for emigration to Cuba on the way to the United States. Many would-be emigrants were swindled of large sums.

STATE DEPARTMENT REFUSES TO DISCUSS KAROLYI'S CHARGE
Count Szchenyi Also Is Silent on Allegation That His Influence Caused Gagging.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—State Department officials decline to discuss the charge made by Count Michael Karolyi that the influence of Count Szchenyi, Hungarian Minister, was used to gag him. It was pointed out that this was fully covered in the letter written by William R. Castle Jr., chief of the Western European division, to Morris L. Ernst, counsel for Count Karolyi, under date of March 2. Castle declared he had advised Ernst that the Hungarian Government made no representations either directly or through Count Szchenyi. He added that the attitude of the State Department toward the admission of Count Karolyi was determined on information received through its representatives in European countries. At the Hungarian legation it was said the Minister would make no statement.

MONTREAL, April 16.—Count Michael Karolyi and his wife departed last night for St. John, New Brunswick, to sail for England.

The two were entertained at luncheon yesterday by La Patrie, the leading Liberal French paper here, and spent the afternoon driving about the city with the American correspondents.

Explosion at Nonunion's Home.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 16.—The home of Jim Scalopino, a nonunion miner, was damaged by an explosion early today, believed by police to have been caused by a dynamite blast. The miner, his wife and four children, who were asleep in the house, escaped injury. Scalopino gave police the names of men he said had threatened him. Three men were arrested as suspects pending the outcome of an investigation. The Clarksburg district is a part of the Northwest Virginia coal fields where a strike was called April 1 by the United Mine Workers.

Letter-Writing Prize to Blind Girl.

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Thoroughly blind and paralyzed for four years, 12-year-old Lois Mason won third prize in a letter-writing contest on the advantages of residence in California. The prize-winning letter was built on what Lois remembered of the two weeks of sunshine and flowers preceding her blindness, together with information she has been able to pick up since by radio, lying on her cot in a hospital.

But a gambling club heard of the case and acted. The club had been threatened with expulsion by the Foreign Press Association of the rooms of the gambling club in Berlin's most expensive streets.

Its officers approached the press association with an offer to make over the flat to the foreign newspaper men, on condition that the members of the gambling club be allowed to use the rooms at night. The association, after consulting the German foreign office, accepted the offer, with which every one was satisfied, including the police.

The chief of police even asked the foreign office to state that the use of the rooms of the gambling club was "a necessary of the foreign policy." Although the foreign office had to refuse that request, a truce was agreed upon and the gambling club was left in peace.

In February, 1925, a new chief of police was appointed. He has shown his disapproval of gambling and of foreigners by a series of raids on the Foreign Press Association. Now the gambling club and the press association are at a loss what to do.

To Wesley G. Moore, 18 years old, of Webster Groves, temporarily stopping at Central District holdover, life is a dull, monotonous thing. Action and adventure and lots of it is what his nature craves.

The routine of Webster Groves high school and life with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin K. Moore of 302 South Gore Avenue, proved too much to him last September. A burst for freedom and Wesley was a soldier stationed at Fort Russell, Wyo. The army, too, with no war going on proved monotonous and April 10 saw him back in St. Louis still thirsting for action. He hired automobiles and chauffeurs, but finding that sport too tame, he resorted to airplane rides in commercial planes at Bridgeton field.

Such things cost money and Wesley had little. So he opened an account at the National Bank of Commerce, depositing checks bearing his father's name. Wednesday a suspicious bank official had him arrested when he offered a $50 check bearing his father's purported signature. It is charged that he got $175 in all on checks his father did not sign.

The elder Moore, an automobile salesman, called yesterday at Central District and talked in a sobbing and repentant manner. The father declared he would make good the checks and would endeavor to obtain his son's release from the army. Wesley says he is ready now, to go back to school.

$300,000,000 TAX CUT IN NEW REVENUE BILL PREDICTEDChairman Madden Confers With Coffidger on Its Provisions—
To Sail for Tour of Europe.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Belief that a revenue bill reducing the aggregate of taxes at least $300,000,000 will be enacted at the next session of Congress was expressed today by Chairman Madden of the House Appropriations Committee, after a conference with President Coolidge.

Madden said the Treasury surplus for the current fiscal year would approximate $58,000,000 and that for the fiscal year beginning July 1, on the basis of appropriation bills already passed, it would approach $72,000,000. He pointed out, however, that deficiency and supplemental appropriations to be authorized by the next Congress would reduce the latter total.

Expressing the view that no special session of Congress would be called, he said he proposed to call his committee together by mid-October to begin preparation of the annual supply bills. At the same time the House Ways and Means Committee, he said, would be engaged in preparing a tax reduction bill.

The committee chairman said he intended to press for action at the next session on his bill which would authorize tax refunds in proportion to surpluses in the Treasury.

Madden, who has been ill with influenza, will sail Tuesday on the George Washington for Europe to study the fiscal systems of the French, German and British Governments.

NICKEL-PLATE'S CHARTER
PROVIDES FOR USE OF PLANES

Also Enables the New York, Chicago & St. Louis to Run dirigibles and Steamboats.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, April 10.—When the Interstate Commerce Commission begins hearings next week into the merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, Penn. Mid-Western, Hocking Valley and Nickel-Plate railroads into the newly incorporated New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Co. (Nickel-Plate), it will find the outline of probably the most inclusive transportation system ever devised.

An inspection of the incorporation articles filed in Columbus Jan. 20, revealed that the charter enables the Van Sweringens to operate airplanes, dirigibles and steamboats in addition to trains. In fact pack horses and submarines are the only means of transportation not mentioned.

The articles provide for a railroad run "by steam, electricity, gas, gasoline or other motive power" for "office buildings, restaurants, and hotels," operated in connection with the use of "wagons, automobiles, tractors, trucks and other vehicles, airplanes, dirigibles and other aircraft" and for acquisition of "aviation fields and landing places both on land and water."

Inquiry whether the Van Sweringen plan to start airplane routes soon was not taken seriously at their offices here.

Hindenburg Denies
He Will Attempt to Restore Monarchy

(Copyright, 1925.)
HANOVER, Germany, April 10.—"Don't rock the boat!" That will be the policy of Field Marshal von Hindenburg if his candidacy for the Germany presidency is successful. The reactionary hotheads who expect the veteran to encourage monarchistic or militaristic revival in Germany will be disappointed, according to his statement.

Although he is personally convinced that monarchy is the best form of government for Germany, von Hindenburg realizes that any attempt to re-establish it now—or probably for years to come—would mean civil war. His guiding principle, as outlined today, would be "peace with the whole world, and law, order and unity in Germany."

Through his son, Maj. Oscar von Hindenburg, the Field Marshal answered the questions put to him by the correspondent and later amplified his statement through his friend, Lieutenant-Colonel von Feldmann, who will be his local campaign manager.

"The story that I telegraphed to Doorn (to the former Kaiser) for permission to accept the candidacy is a base lie," said von Hindenburg. "An equally vicious lie is the assertion that if I'm elected, the German policy will be dictated from Doorn."

The correspondent explained to von Hindenburg the views of the outside world regarding his candidacy and the misgivings expressed in the United States and elsewhere lest he might attempt restoration of monarchy.

"Nothing is more remote from my mind than any attempt whatever to use the presidential office for restoring the monarchy," von Hindenburg said. "Such an attempt would mean the intensifying of bitter domestic party strife. My highest desire is to do my share to eliminate that strife. This certainly is the time for pushing the question of the form of government to the forefront. The German nation has far more serious problems to solve. The trouble with so many among us is that they are breaking their heads over the form of state, forgetting the state itself."

As for the fear that his election would mean a new war, von Hindenburg considers it an insult to his common sense and his calm judgment as a soldier. He refused to say more about it other than: "Do they think that I am a damn fool?"

Princeton Accepts $200,000 Gift.

By the Associated Press.
TRENTON, N. J., April 10.—At the spring meeting here yesterday, the Princeton board of trustees announced acceptance of a gift of $200,000 from William Cooper Proctor to be used for providing additional room at the graduate college. Announcement also was made of increases in faculty salaries amounting to $80,000 a year, made possible by increasing the tuition fee from $350 to $400 a year.

STRESEMANN AND LUTHER TO KNIFE VON HINDENBURG

Foreign Minister Will Try to Keep People's Party Voters From Going to Polls.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and New York World.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. of New York and Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, April 10.—Chancellor
Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann have discussed the advisability of resigning as a means of ejecting the Nationalists from the Government.

They decided such retaliation for the Nationalists' intrigues with the former Kaiser, which led to the nomination of Field Marshal von Hindenburg for President over the wishes of the People's party, would only add confusion to the already muddled situation.

They adopted the middle course of trying to knife Von Hindenburg in the election April 26. With the majority of the People's party behind him, Stresemann quietly will issue orders that are expected to keep most if not all of his party's voters from the polls. His first move, however, was to force withdrawal of his party's representatives from the Finance Committee of the Reichs bloc (reactionary coalition), in charge of gathering contributions for the campaign.
The withdrawal led to the breakup and dissolution of the committee.
This means there will be no money for the Von Hindenburg campaign.

Behind the movement to knife
Von Hindenburg stands the group of industrialists and financiers who backed the campaign of the Nationalist, Dr. Karl Jarres, in the preliminary election. They will not help Von Hindenburg because they consider his nomination is highly detrimental to Germany's interests abroad.

With them also is the group of big agrarians, who, despite their traditional Junkerdom, consider Von Hindenburg's nomination a grave mistake. What they fear most now is failure of negotiations
they have been conducting for some time for big foreign loans for German agriculture.

Von Hindenburg's chances also will not be helped by Gen. Ludendorff's withdrawal in his favor and his manifesto calling on all Fascists to rally to the Von Hindenburg standard. Those who have tried to make a distinction between Von Hindenburg and Luden-dorff will find it difficult to do so now.

The Nationalist and Conservative newspapers, many of which agitated against Von Hindenburg's nomination, have swung into line in a general Nationalist hosanna for Von Hindenburg.

ITALIAN DISORDERS CONTINUE Fascists Demand Drastic Steps Against Communists

ROME, April 10.—Clashes and street fighting between Fascists and Communists continue to be reported from various Italian centers, particularly from Biella and Ruvo while the tension of the whole situation has been aggravated by the death of the Fascist who was shot in a pistol fight at Bari yesterday.
Three more Fascists are reported seriously injured in the latest attacks by Communists.

Deputy Roberto Farinacci, secretary of the Fascist party, has issued a manifesto ordering no reprisals to be made, but calling upon the Government to take immediate and drastic steps. He asks that restricted domicile for political offenders be enforced, and that those responsible for the recent attack be banished. The attacks are believed to have been due to a double murder at Bologna, where a Fascist was killed and a Communist later was slain, supposedly as a reprisal.

Taxi Driver Badly Burned.
FULTON, Mo., April 10.—When W. C. Fisher, a taxicab owner, felt something burning his leg, while riding in a closed car here, he looked around and saw that his car was afire. Two cans of gasoline he was carrying to a stranded motorcycle ignited from the fire and exploded, throwing burning gasoline over him. He was painfully burned around the legs, head and arms, besides being hurt in jumping from the car.

Skiers Speed Behind Airplane at St. Moritz

Any Form of Velocity on Ice, Especially If It Is Dangerous, Is Welcomed at Alpine Resort.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland.—Any one who plays on ice or snow acquires a mania for speed. Before the motor car and locomotive were invented the skier and the tobogganer were holding the world's record for velocity.

Capek has a poor idea of the English Sunday. "People say that the use of Sunday is to enable them to go into the country; this is not true; people go into the country to protect themselves in a wild panic from the English Sunday. I do not know for what unutterable guilt the Lord has condemned England to the weekly punishment of Sunday."

ST. MORITZ, the speed mania, spiced with a bit of danger, has become an art. Bobleighing down the cruel, twisting one-mile course is a sport which Satan himself would need a little courage to dare, especially if he were responsible for the steering. The sleigh weighs a good 200 pounds, the five members of the crew 600 pounds or so. Half a ton of flesh and steel plunging down a mountain, racing around horseshoes and figure eights, doing a mile in a minute and a half!

Nothing at St. Moritz is more striking than the contrast between the ridiculousness of the bobsleigh posture and the solemnity of the bobsleighers. Five otherwise dignified human beings solemnly depositing themselves one on the back of another, the first, the helmsman, grim as the old guard at Waterloo and the last, or "bobber," jumping about like a puppy! But if the first makes a quarter of an inch mistake on the circumference of his wheel there may be the new cases in the St. Moritz Hospital. And if the last does not jump up and down with sufficient energy the cup will be lost. The first avers the danger which the last creates.

"A rather silly way to commit suicide," remarked an English visitor. But those who get the velocity microbe itch to do it.

At Mercy of the Horse.

Leaping over the edge of a precipice on skis when a mistake of one degree in the angle of your foot may give you anything from a broken ankle to a broken back ought to be thrilling enough for most of us. But at St. Moritz it is cast in the shade by the purely Norwegian sport of ski-kjoring, or skiing behind a horse. In its milder form this is merely a matter of "hooking on" to a saddle horse by means of traces. But in the ski-kjoring races, a feature of the annual racing events on ice, there is no rider. The skierman holds the reins as well as the traces, and guides as best he can. A sheet about eight feet long between the traces keeps out of his eyes some of the snow kicked up by the horse's hoofs. The horse is invariably perplexed and skittish, and is as likely to run for the fence or the stable as for the goal.

The uncertainties of this arrangement were not sufficient for some St. Moritz kijorers, who this year insisted on substituting an airplane for a horse. The plane, it is true, ran on the frozen lake—this year—and went only sixty miles an hour. But next season they expect to hook on while it is flying at a respectable hundred per, and won't that be fun?

Meanwhile, cross-country skiing through the mountains is one of the jolliest and least celebrated of St. Moritz sports. Also, it is no longer obligatory to call them "shees." "Shees" have become good sport.

Curling for the Old-timers.

But among ice sports there is at least one that is immune from the velocity microbe. That is curling. This game cannot be described unless Scotsmen present will promise not to throw bricks. Essentially the principle is that of shooting pennies, the "pennies" being in the form of heavy, rounded "stones." Down the ice rink comes the stone, stealthily sliding toward the goal. Will it reach, or will it fall an inch short? It is a tense moment for the captain. An inch short? Then up, team, and at it! The team appears from the sidelines armed with ordinary kitchen brooms and busily sweeps the ice on the path of the approaching stone. Presumably this sweeping smooths the ice to permit the stone to slide a shade more easily and thus reach the line.

Handed men are oblivious to the smiles of onlookers at the spectacle of dignified gentlemen industriously wielding the brooms. It is impossible to convince the onlooker that the sweeping makes a particle of difference. But, it is explained, curling provides sport for many an oldish man who could play nothing else. Anyway, every one's past sport is sacred.

DANGER OF WORLD WHEAT FAMINE IN FUTURE DISCUSSED

Agriculture Department Economist Estimates Consumption Will Be Trebled Within 100 Years

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON.—The probability of a world wheat shortage in future generations unless rational land and population policies are formulated by the white races of the world, is seen by Dr. O. E. Baker, Department of Agriculture Economist, who recently completed a study of world wheat production.

The white wheat-eating people of the world now consume some 2,525,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, Dr. Baker says. Allowing for normal population increase, but for no increase in per capita consumption, the requirements of the white races 25 years from now will be 3,200,000,000 bushels of wheat a year.

The requirements 50 years hence will be 4,300,000,000 bushels annually, and a century hence some 5,800,000,000 bushels. Should per capita consumption increase to that of France today, which Dr. Baker says appears likely, the total wheat requirements 50 years hence would be 5,500,000,000 bushels annually, and in 100 years hence some 7,400,000,000 bushels.

Treble Production Needed.

"Can the white man's world almost treble its production of wheat within a century, or even produce the 5,800,000,000 which it appears may be needed within the lifetime of some of us?" Dr. Baker asks. The potential wheat production of the world is more than ample to meet these requirements, he says, but rational direction and control are required to bring it about.

"The potential wheat production of the world is some 12,150,000,000 bushels," Dr. Baker says. "Of this quantity nearly 3,000,000,000 bushels will be produced and probably consumed by non-white people, leaving about 9,000,000,000 bushels for the white race, which affords a comfortable surplus over the 7,400,000,000 bushels estimated as required a century hence."

Greater Use of Fertilizers.
This potential production, however, is predicated upon the somewhat more extensive use of commercial fertilizers than at present, particularly in America and Europe, and upon the development in all the world, except India and China, of a livestock husbandry to supply manure for the production of grain.

"It involves, consequently, the application of a greater amount of capital per acre than is utilized in most countries at present, and a widespread increase in agricultural knowledge and skill. It assumes also that the price of wheat will be such as to reward the farmer adequately for his labor, his managerial ability, and the use of his capital; and, above all, that peace and order and technical progress will become increasingly pervasive."

SAYS RIDING MASTER LOST HIS NERVE FOR SUICIDE
Stepmother of George Mundung's Slain Fiancée Describes Scene at Killing.

By the Associated Press.

WHEATON, Ill., April 16.—Testimony that George Mundung, Chicago riding master, on trial here on a charge of murdering his fiancée, Julia Abb Douglas, at a society riding academy in Hinsdale last September, momentarily contemplated suicide at the time of his act has been given by Mrs. Minnie Abb, stepmother of Mrs. Douglas.

Mrs. Abb was placed on the stand yesterday following testimony by Joseph Abb, her husband. Both of them declared they witnessed the shooting and each gave an account of the events leading up to it in response to questions by the prosecution, which is endeavoring to prove that the killing was a "cold and calculated murder."

"On Sept. 29, the day of the shooting," Mrs. Abb testified, "Mrs. Douglas and Mundung were walking from the stables toward the house. Midway, Mundung grasped her by the shoulder and tore away her sweater, then produced a revolver and shot her twice.

"He quickly turned the revolver against him. He pressed it to his temple, but apparently lost his nerve and instead of shooting himself turned the weapon against poor Julia and shot her twice more."

Mrs. Abb also testified concerning an alleged midnight quarrel between Mundung and Robert Plummer of La Grange, who was spending the night at the riding academy. She said it was one of a number of occasions when Mundung had shown extreme jealousy of his fiancée.

Accused Woman on $10,000 Bail, MARION, Ill., April 16.—Mrs. Ruby Herrington Tate, charged with the death of her first husband, Joseph Herrington, by poison placed in his dinner bucket at a coal mine, where he worked, was admitted to $10,000 bail yesterday. Her second husband, Robert Tate, who was jointly charged after confessing the crime, was unable to furnish bail and still is held pending trial. The trial is docketed for May 4, before Circuit Judge O. T. Hartwell.

GIRL'S INSANITY REVEALED BY A SARGENT PORTRAIT

Young Woman's Story Is Told
by Sir Squire Bancroft
in Book, "Empty Chairs."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON.—An amazing story of insanity in a girl was first revealed in a portrait painted by Sargent is told by Sir Squire Bancroft in his book, "Empty Chairs" just published.

"I owe the following painful and remarkable story to my friend Aston Webb, ex-president of the Royal Academy: It was told to him and others by Tadema," he writes.

"A young woman, an American, the daughter of parents of wealth and position, was the cause of great anxiety to her father and mother, to her intimate friends, and to her doctor, on the score of her health, which puzzled all concerned, and became a mystery which no one seemed able to unravel.

"At last the doctor was driven to advise a year's absence from home and its surroundings by a trip to Europe, to be spent where and how the girl might wish. In the companionship of a female friend: she had no sisters, and the parents could not leave their own country at the time.

"The patient first went to London and enjoyed her stay there. During it she conceived a strong wish to be painted by her eminent and puzzled by the condition of his fellow countryman Sargent, the patient.

"I will come briefly to the end of the portrait, which was painted by him.

Fire in Paris Takes on Dignity of an Event

Spectators Chat Merrily and Even Make Suggestions to Help Work of Firefighters.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS.—A fire is a fire anywhere. But a fire in Paris—which by the way, boasts an exceedingly low conflagration rate—is more than a fire. It is a social event, a political event, a grand spectacle. The writer happened in unaware on a little conflagration which will provide an excellent example. The little salon of the apartment where the event took place proved to be rather well filled by earlier comers. There were four men in gleaming metal helmets, four gendarmes with clubs and revolvers; the Concierge and the Concierge's wife; the owner of the house and the owner's wife; most of the neighbors from adjoining apartments, and all of the neighbors' maids.

Every one was chatting merrily with every one else and one of the gendarmes was discoursing on politics in a manner indicating that he did not wholly approve of the call to power of M. Caillaux.

The hostess, who was serving tea to an overflow meeting in an adjoining room, found time at last to offer the writer tea and explain that the house was enjoying a little fire. She pointed out the window to a crowd of 200 or 300 persons who also were enjoying the little fire.

The fire was an infinitesimal blaze high up in the chimney—such a blaze as the Fire Department of any American city would have squelched with one squirt from a chemical extinguisher. The French method, it seemed, was different. One of the firemen, carefully removing his highly polished helmet, crawled up on the chimney toward the blaze and hit it reprovingly with a broom. Then another fireman on the roof shouted down, "It's finished."

But as a matter of fact it had scarcely begun. For two hours the firemen with their gleaming helmets and the gendarmes with their shiny plats remained. Every now and then one of the firemen would get down on his hands and knees before the hearth and shout "Allo!" into the chimney. Each time, the fireman on the roof shouted stubbornly back "It's finished." So at last they believed him and went away, marching smartly out between the gendarmes.

But even then "It's finished" proved a premature statement. In an hour came the fire chief of the district, gallant apostle for his intrusion. He scrutinized the chimney, told madame that the fire really seemed to be finished, took down the history of the fire from the madame and extended his sympathy, offered his congratulations and departed. He promised that two or three other officials would call on the morrow. When they have finished—in about two weeks—madame may light a fire on her hearth again, provided the weather is still chilly enough by that time to require one.

The attitude of the fire department in attacking a more serious conflagration naturally is more serious. Certainly the Paris methods are efficient. But they are droll to an American. Recently a motor fire truck dashed toward a bad fire not far from the opera house. It looked as though an entire army division clung to the truck, so thick was the sea of glistening helmets. As the truck turned a corner, every man aboard thrust out an arm as chauffeurs do under similar circumstances.

Arrived at the fire, they went into action with commendable zeal, but those whose duties were completed once the house had been attacked betook themselves and their highly polished boots out of the way of the water and stood in picturesque groups chatting.

Their calm was dramatic in comparison with the enthusiasm of the crowd, a good portion of which had departed the tamer show at the opera. Every now and then an earnest citizen, flanked by adherents, rushed up to the firemen and offered suggestions. The firemen listened courteously, nodded, replied "Ah, oui," and promised to refer the matter to the chief.

Of course they probably did not refer it—but you can imagine an American fireman giving a courteous nod and the equivalent of an "Ah, oui" to a volunteer adviser?

Ah, non!

CHICAGO

ARMY OFFICER, MAD WITH LOVE,
SHOOTS GIRL

Miss Audrey Burleigh, formerly of Memphis, is killed after dance in Army Show at Manila.

LIEUTENANT TO BE TRIED FOR LIFE

Under Military Law, Conviction Means Death Sentence — Slayer Broken With Remorse and Fear.

By Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

MANILA.—The death penalty looms before Lieut. John S. Thompson, New York minister's son, who, in a love rage Sunday morning, shot his 18-year-old sweetheart, Miss Audrey Burleigh, after decoying her into an automobile at the Army and Navy Club where she had just had the first triumph of her young life as a dancer in an amateur revue given by army talent.

Thompson broke down, sobbing like a child and heart-broken with remorse and cowardice, when he learned he would be tried under Article 45 of military law, under which conviction means the death sentence.

His Father a Clergyman.

Thompson's father is the Rev. J. Milton Thompson, pastor of Sage Memorial Church of Far Rockaway, Long Island, N. Y. and also moderator of the New York Presbyterian Synod.

Lieut. Thompson has seemed to show an uncontrollable passion toward pretty women since he left San Francisco more than a year ago.

He has been madly enamored of every attractive girl he has met, growing violently angry when unable to monopolize their attentions.

Taken Wounded to the Fort.

He met Audrey as she was leaving the club, showered with congratulations and asked permission to escort her to the Manila Hotel. He told her he was not angry with her any more. He ordered the driver not to stop at the hotel and to proceed to Fort McKinley regardless of the entreaties of the alarmed girl. After they had passed the historical San Antonio Abad fort near Pasay, the driver heard shots and got orders to proceed to Fort McKinley while the army officer held the bleeding girl in his arms.

The slain girl student was pretty, talented and popular. She was a step-daughter of Capt. H. P. Calimes, United States Medical Corps. With her mother, she formerly lived in Memphis, Tenn. After her mother's marriage to Capt. Calimes, they removed to El Paso, Tex., where the girl was a social favorite. She will be buried in Memphis.

It is the common opinion that there was no more than the slightest claim on her and was maddened by sheer passion, not love. Drunkenness did not enter into the tragedy.

ROMANCE OF TRAILS IN NORTH DAKOTA

Historic Society Seeks to Link Facts in Early Expedition Against the Indians.

By the Associated Press.
FARGO, N. D., April 8.—The romance of dead trails across North Dakota prairies are revealed in the fifth letter of Dana Wright, Jamestown, chairman of the Parks Committee of the State Historical Society to the Associated Press here. Wright is making investigations into historical sites in the State, attempting to add to the accounts of early days in North Dakota.

After making a personal report to officers of the State Historical Society at Bismarck, Wright last week "struck out" southeast to look up some of the landmarks along the Sully trail of 1863.

"You know Sully with a brigade of cavalry was to come up the east side of the Missouri River from his steamboat at Fort Pierre, S. D. and head off any Indians that might attempt to cross to the west side, while Sibley, with a heavy column of infantry, moved across the plains from Minnesota directly against the Red men," Mr. Wright explains in the letter.

River Delayed Plans.
"The plan was fine and the Government provided the means to carry it out. The only thing lacking was the water in the Missouri to run the steamboats. It happened to be a very dry year and the Missouri was so low that it was almost impossible to get the boats up with Sully's supplies, so he was delayed about a month.

In the meantime, Sibley carried out his part of the contract and drove the Indians off the plains between the James and Missouri, defeating them in the battles of Big Mound, Dead Buffalo Lake, and Stony Lake, and pursued them over the Missouri River at the mouth of Apple Creek, which is a few miles south of Bismarck.

"Sibley waited a few days and then not being able to cross the river and being short of rations, returned to Minnesota. About three weeks later Sully made his way up on the east side and not finding any signs of Indians, made a camp on the west side of Long Lake in Burleigh County, about a mile and a half south of the present site of Moffit. Here he fortified his camp and sent a scouting party to the mouth of Apple Creek to look for signs of Sibley. This scouting party under Capt. Cram found Sibley's abandoned camp site and his trail returning to the east.

"On receiving this information about the 30th of August Sully was much disappointed but determined to continue his search for the Sioux. He received information from his scouts that the Indians which Sibley had driven over the Missouri had returned to the east side and were hunting in the coteau toward the White Stone hills.

Seek Line of March.
His guides led the way to the east and south across the coteau, but their exact route has never been determined and may never be. I have been spending some time trying to figure out this course and have formed an opinion, but I cannot prove it as yet. He probably passed along the south side of Long Lake and then nearly east in the northern part of Logan County to the eastern part of that county, probably about south of Gackle and then swung south about 20 or 25 miles, past Fredericks and into the northeast corner of McIntosh County.

"Here he camped, but his

BROWNS BACK HOME, IN CONDITION FOR SEASON'S OPENING GAME

Players Are Convinced They Have Chance to Be Dangerous Contenders for A. L. Pennant

Jacobson's Failure to Sign Only Cloud on Horizon — Club's Pitching Improved While Catching Is Twice as Strong — Not an Injury on Training Trip.

By J. Roy Stockton.

George Sisler and his Browns returned to St. Louis this morning after a training trip, which has convinced the players that they have an excellent chance to be a dangerous pennant contender, at least as good a chance as they had in 1922, when they finished one game behind the New York Yankees.

There was only one cloud on the horizon. Bill Jacobson, the team's regular center fielder and one of its best batters, is still a holdout, and the gloom at his failure to reach an agreement with the owners is caused by the fact that in figuring that they have a fine chance to win the pennant, the Browns assume that the Baby Doll will be a member of the squad. The consensus among the players and close followers of the team is that if Jacobson and the club business management fail to come to terms, the pennant chances will be knocked away and the team will have a fight on its hands to stay in the first division.

There are many reasons for the Browns' optimism. The improvement in the pitching department is the principal cause for confidence.

Then George Sisler's apparent return to his best form, at bat and in the field, greatly increases the team's defensive and attacking strength. The infield looks better than at any time since Jimmy Austin dropped out of the picture. The players all agree that the infield is a steeper combination than in 1922, when Frank Ellerbe's weak knee was a constant worry.

Robertson Real Star.

Gene Robertson, inspired by greater confidence in his own ability by Sisler's attitude, has developed into a real star at third base. St. Louisans will be delighted with the improvement in fielding, throwing and hitting that the former Loyola boy is displaying. He has been given a chance against a kind of pitching and he has cracked the left-handers as well as the right-handers.

McManus, despite the fact that he reported late, has almost caught up with the other players in the matter of condition and with his throwing arm strong, he appears to be set for the greatest year in his career. His attitude toward the game is excellent. Despite the differences over salary and his failure to get the increase that he asked for he is working hard and hustling.

Gerber is the old reliable shortstop. His arm is as strong as ever and he is the same old hawk on ground balls. And though he is not a heavy hitter he bats over his average in the pinch.

Not a Single Injury.

The training trip was unusual in many respects. The Browns did not leave on the opening day, the only days of rest being Sunday and Monday. Florida, where Sunday baseball is not permitted, was the only place where the team stayed over night.

Harry Rice and Bob LaMotte will be the infield reserves. Rice at last seems to be showing his best ability. He has settled down to the business in hand and his fielding is better than his hitting has ever been. LaMotte has one of the best arms in baseball and Sisler believes that some day he will be one of the big stars in the league. He also will be available for pinch hitting. LaMotte had a great year with Memphis in 1924 and he means to win the Browns if there are casualties in the Brownfield.

Catching Is Improved.

The Joe Bush's pinch hitting ability cannot be overlooked in figuring the team's reserve strength. And when Texen is catching, Seven-ell will be available for emergency batting duty.

Harry Rice and Bob LaMotte will be the infield reserves. Rice at last seems to be showing his best ability.

He has settled down to the business in hand and his fielding is better than his hitting has ever been.

LaMotte has one of the best arms in baseball and Sisler believes that some day he will be one of the big stars in the league. He also will be available for pinch hitting.

LaMotte had a great year with Memphis in 1924 and he means to win the Browns if there are casualties in the Brownfield.

Thus the Browns have a better pitching staff and a catching staff

just twice as strong as it was in 1922, when the team made its best bid for a championship. The infield is stronger and that brings the analysis: the outfield and the reserves.

If Jacobson signs, the outfield will be better than last year. Tobin, again, with his old speed in the field and power at the plate, was not a good player last year, but his this year.

Master Charlie Derby Favorite At 7 to 1 Odds

Master Charlie, W. Daniel's im- ported derby candidate, now in training for the Preakness and the Kentucky Derby, at New Orleans, moves into the favorite's position for the Kentucky Derby today.

Local future bookmakers, in- fluenced by Master Charlie's im- proved workouts down South, to- day debarred Quatrain, the early favorite.

T. F. Kearney, St. Louis turf betting authority, announced that Master Charlie was now quoted at 7 to 1, he having steadily receded from 10 and even 12 to 1.

Quatrain, the former favorite, winner of the Louisiana Derby, which was quoted as low as 5 to 1 at one time, has risen to 8 to 1 in the betting.

Quatrain is the heaviest money carrier of all derby entries, al- though Master Charlie has picked up in the last week. If a horse named Flying Ebony wins, he stands to cause more woe to the books than the victory of Black Gold.

spotted to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, April 10.—The Ben- fessional champions, who defeated the first game of the series for the United States, now en route to the series, at the Walpole street ground, did reception upon their arrival in State and city will officially be represented in the greeting, through the offices of the Lieutenant-Governor, members of the Governor's staff and Mayor James M. Curley. Sporting organizations and numerous other social clubs will also take part in the reception to be given the visitors.

Boston must defeat the Ben Mil- lers on Saturday if it is to even up the series and make necessary a third and final game for the title. The Hub team, which returned from St. Louis via Niagara Falls where a day was spent viewing the great cataract, is unanimous in declaring that the Ben Miller's game lacked polish and finesse of a third of the teams in the Ameri- can League.

"It is a typically rough-and-ready type of game that they play."

HYDE PARKS DEFEAT ST. PAUL AND CLAIM CHURCH TEAM TITLE

The Hyde Park Congregational Church basketball team, winner of the Sunday-school championship and conquerors of the Beloit Whites, Sodality League titholders, added the St. Paul team to the Lutherans League to their list of victims last night. The score was 25 to 21.

Manager Bill Rheinhardt of the Hyde Parks now claims the champion- ship of all church basketball in this city. His team lost only three games this season. The La- cockers, open champions, defeated the Hyde Parks 24 to 32.

Strauss and Eppetton started for the Hyde Parks last night and the Beloit group took the best of the St. Paul team.

The game was played at Batterymaster Armory before about 400 persons.

In a preliminary game, the Hyde Park Juniors defeated the St. Paul Juniors, 29 to 18.

Stein's half was 51-2-5, and Trail was caught in 52.

Altrawood Almost Ready.

Altrawood, the crack long-distance horse trained by Ham Keene, showed he was fast rounding to form when he worked with the Wm. Derby eligible Hamadan. Both ran in first quarter in 25-1-5; half in 51-1-6, and three-quarters in 1-17-4.

Drewry Waters Steps Fast.

Dan Leahy's Derby colt, Drewry Waters, showed the fastest five-eighths of the training season at the Dogwood, and the colt is speed to be seen.

He stepped the first quarter in 22-4-5; the half in 48-2-5, and five eighths in 1-91-5. This colt is training grandly for his Derby and is a sure bet.

Cup Easter ran as if he was rounding to racing form. Trainer

Midleton let him step a quarter in 21-1-5; half in 49-2-2. This is the fastest move this colt has shown him up to date.

Eddie Dyer, the southpaw pitcher, has been unable to work much because of a bad arm. Jim Bottomett's out for a brief hand swing

in a bad thumb, but it was nothing serious.

Few Injuries on Trip.

While the Cardinals ran into some bad weather on the trip, especially at San Francisco, where the team played very few of its games scheduled for a week. The club was handicapped by but few injuries.

Ray Blades had a recurrence of an arm injury which handicapped him in 1924, but he has been better in the past few games. Then Winner Moves.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10.—Quatrain had his first trial since arriving at the Downs yesterday.

The derby favorite worked in company with Princess Adele, a Kentucky Oaks filly in the Frederick Johnson stable. While Trainer

Harmon instructed the boys on the two racers to step along three quarters at about a 1:10 clip, the Derby colt seemed to run as if he was not relishing his work. He had his ears pinned back as the pair came from the stand and while he was fighting, for his head there was something lacking in his move which usually marks the action of a colt of Derby caliber, ready to race.

Hub Fans and Players, Too, Will Show Appreciation Of Good Treatment Here

St. Louis Team Tries to Score by Dint of Vigorous Slammer Tactics, Boston Manager Says — Record Attendance Expected.

Illness Likely to Keep Cobb Out of Opening Day Game

By the Associated Press, NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 10. OR the first time since he went to the Detroit Tigers, a rookie in the major leagues, Ty Cobb, now leader of that team, today faced the possibility of sitting on the bench and watching his team play the opening game of the season.

Stricken with influenza yesterday after unsuccessfully struggling against a cold for the past several days, Cobb was confined to his room today by physicians. He was advised by physicians to remain there at least until Monday. In that event George McBride will have charge of the Detroit team on the way home.

State and city will officially be observed Manager Dave Scott of the Boston eleven today. "They have the habit of shooting, of charging the goal and attempting to kick the ball in by that of numbers, which is not according to Hoyle, after all. However, we ought to overcome all of that on Saturday and manage to even the count."

Manager Scott, who has piloted the team out of the disastrous slump of January and February, observed that Boston today has the strongest defense in the country.

"The fans of St. Louis, despite the fact that they were violently partisan," said Scott, "applauded the foot work of our defense time and again. And while on that part of it, I declared, 'I want to express the thanks of the Boston soccer fans. They surely know how to be fair and make visitors not only feel at home but like coming back again.'"

The St. Louis officials were fine, a better set could not be found and everybody and everything in St. Louis was splendid. Every member of the team wants it known that they appreciated it all, really appreciated it."

The Boston team was accorded a fine reception by the Western officials and fans alike, who were greatly incensed over the McNab incident.

The Boston winger was traveling along the touch line, when a spectator rushed over and assaulted him.

The foolishness of this maniac was easily forgotten and the local eleven had nothing but praise for the splendid treatment accorded them by the Barker, Phil Riley and other leading lights of soccerdom in the Missouri capitol.

The advance tickets sale to date has broken all records. Not such a demand for tickets has ever been seen in the history of Boston soccer as for the coming Saturday contests.

Another case of slaying the golden goose, perhaps.

In the Doldrums.

THE BIG BUSINESS of fight promotion appears to be slowly going down by the head. Too much commission, over-publicity,

dearth of new material and a vacillating heavyweight champion appear to have shelled the good ship between wind and water.

An unpromising heavyweight fight season is the result. Thus far the only sure-shot match in sight is the Wills-Weinert contest—which is meaningless from title viewpoint. Weinert has as much chance to beat Wills as an armless Zulu has to beat a tom-tom.

Dempsey Seeks Advertising.

GIBBONS and Tunney will make a sorry fight, unless we miss our guess. And Dempsey will build fires under matches

that are never closed, seemingly

to carry along his motion picture publicity.

It seems probable that a third year will pass without the champion

having taken part in anything but exhibition bouts.

With Dempsey out, the "peak"

of the fight game has been reached and passed, and only the rise of a new Dempsey and a new Leonard can stir the public back to keen interest. Even Dempsey's consent to fight again might not drive the ennu from the faces of jaded fans.

Another case of slaying the golden goose, perhaps.

More Bear Stories.

THE college football coach will soon slip out of the picture as a bear-story teller. For the present the tuftman has a monopoly of the field.

The activity is especially noticed at the Derby field, where the existence of a winter book and the desire for long price quotations leads owners of candidates in some quarters to decry

the merits of their eligibles.

For that reason one may di-count that workout of Quatrain, the Louisiana Derby winner. That good and proved horse had his first Derby tryout over a Kentucky track, yesterday, and his movements didn't cause the railbirds clockers to fall for him at all, according to reports.

That ought to send his future

book price up a few points and cause the bookmaker to let down his guard. Until definite report of injury or sickness is given out,

Quatrain's chances are just as good today as on the afternoon

when he towroped the Derby field at New Orleans.

"Babe" Is Right.

JUDGING from the ills to which

Bambino Ruth has from time to time fallen heir, "Babe"

is the correct nickname. Considering the remarkable physique with which nature endowed the Bambino, his resistance is about

on a par with an infant's.

Tonsilitis, carbuncles, influenza and indigestion in turn have assailed him and brought him low.

And yet we are told that he very likely will be able to play

next Tuesday. Either Babe's recupative power equals his susceptibility, or he has the most marvelous physician in the country working on him.

We think he will, eventually.

But owing to constant talk going

the rounds that a return match might arouse criticism, Kaufman has probably held off to see what the public reaction to the proposal would be.

So far as the public is concerned, it would endorse the show, especially if Lewis proved

Dempsey Cuts Kearns' Split To 35 Per Cent

Champion Denies He Has Retired—New Nose May Influence Future.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 10.

MUNN will get a little work at Philadelphia against Stanislaus Zbysko, whom he flopped at Kansas City. Munn will win without a doubt. Zbysko is no longer useful as a champion.

"Intimate friends" of the sometime fighter were quoted last night as authority for the declaration that he had tucked his gloves away in moth balls for good and all.

Munn undoubtedly will make some strides in the art of giving wrestling exhibitions before many months. Private coaching and contact with some of the best actors on the mat are bound to have an effect. By the time he meets Lewis he may be able to distinguish a wing lock from a flying mare—and even employ both.

Dempsey today indignantly denied ever having said that he had retired. He added the information that he had not split with Jack

Kearns, his manager, but that henceforth Kearns would have to be satisfied with 35 per cent of Dempsey's earnings instead of the former 50 per cent. He intimated that he considered himself capable of managing himself if Kearns denies 35 per cent too little for his end.

Dempsey is working in a motion picture studio with his "new nose"

as one of his principal cinematographic assets.

The nose was revamped by a beauty doctor last year and there are not lacking

many who predict that the former chief of the heavies will never risk

having the made-over nasal organ

smashed in another prize fight.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE PLAYS OPENING GAMES TOMORROW

Cleveland and Central Meet in First Contest

Yeatman Faces Roosevelt in Second Game of Double-Header at St. Louis U. Field.

The St. Louis High School League teams will open their baseball season tomorrow at the St.
Louis University Field. Cleveland
meets Central in the opening game, while Yeatman plays Roosevelt in the nightcap. Three of the four teams have scored victories in practice games this week.

Although five of the players on the Cleveland roster are veterans tomorrow's lineup will reveal many new names. Musgrave, playing his third year, will again be at third base. The lad helped Cleveland win the championship last year by his timely hitting. H. Hobbs, who reported for practice only a few days ago, will soon shift his regular position. Gene Hobbs, the sensational twirler of last season, will be unable to play because of a strained arm, which will keep him out of the lineup this spring.

Two New Outfielders.

With the exception of Gleave, playing center field, the outfielders will be new men. Hornsby will be in left and Hennelly in right.
Joe Mowrey, the catcher, will be in the cleanup position. Starkloff has renewed his lease on first base and is set for a good year. Judge has shown the best of the other infielders and he will be given a chance to make good at second base. At present the pitching for the Carondelet school is mediocre, so that a star must be found in Hohn, Neigner or Doyle, all of whom will probably be given a chance to show their wares to morrow.

Central, in defeating Ferguson showed a well-balanced nine. The has hard-hitting capabilities by driving out two triples in the game last week. Hunt, catcher, and Crisp, shortstop, have displayed unusual knowledge of the game, and McIntosh, because of his hitting ability, will bat fourth in the lineup.

Roosevelt's hopes were high until the game with McBride, which Roosevelt won 10-4. It was in this contest that Ray Wise, star first baseman and heavy hitter, hurt his ankle. It is uncertain whether he will play in tomorrow's game.

Wiley Cox, re-elected
PIKER BASKET CAPTAIN

Wiley Cox, Washington University's all-valley guard, was re-elected captain of the Piker basketball team for 1925. Cox, although no giant physically, is regarded as one of the best all-around players in the conference. He has speed, courage and great endurance. And in addition to being a fine guard, is a valuable offensive player. He led the conference guards in scoring points last season. Cox has also won a letter in baseball.

The re-elected captain will have good material to work with in the coming season. Minnie Nies and Walter H. Johnson, both sophomores, but big men, Winkler, Stanford and Chapman remain. Several promising freshmen will be available.

CHICAGO CUBS—Rabbit Mar-

dislocated shoulder; Friberg,

GIANTS—Frank Frisch and forced out because of bad eyesight.

stone, broken finger.

PITTSBURG—Eddie Moore

CINCINNATI—Carl Mays and
Charles Dressen, sore arms.

Several Teams Weakened.

As a result, several of the teams in the majors will not be able to open the 1925 campaign next week with their full strength. However, the hardest blows suffered by any of the clubs were those for the Yankees, Athletics and Cubs. The Yankees, even without Ruth, can get by, but the Mackmen without Hausser are in some straits for a first sacker. Until Hausser went out Mack had what looked like a pennant contender. The Cubs went out of the contender class with the injury to Maranville and Grigsby.

Major League Clubs Hard Hit By Injuries

Several Teams Will Start Season With Stars Laid Up for Repairs.

Major league baseball clubs this spring have been harder hit by injuries and illness than ever before. Very few teams have escaped the two St. Louis aggregations were rather fortunate. Of course, the Cardinals have Ray Blader and Eddie Dyer suffering from ailing arms, but only one minor casualty, a spiked foot suffered by Tony Rizzo, marred the Brown's training.

Other teams were not as fortunate, at least two being hit rather hard in the last few days. These teams were the Yankees and Ruth.
Ruth, though ill, has been the Mackmen's best hitting player.
Kirk had a virtual elimination from the list of championship possibilities.

Johnson came from behind to win,
and although Johnson passed him at 25, Kirk came back and led at 42 to 35. Johnson then forged into the lead and won by 8.

DETROIT—Ty Cobb attack of influenza may not play Tuesday.
Blue, recurrence of leg injury suffered in 1924.

PHILADELPHIA—Hausser, broken knee; Helmrich, dislocated shoulder.

CLEVELAND—Summa and Knode, broken noses.

BOSTON—Willie Wamby, injured knee.

CHICAGO—Hollis, Thurston, sprained ankle; Archdeacon, ill.

PIERRE—Russell, Wright-
stone, broken finger.

PITTSBURG—Eddie Moore

CINCINNATI—Carl Mays and
Charles Dressen, sore arms.

LACLEDE GAS COMMON STOCK DROPS TO 160

Sales for First Four Days This Week Total 500 Shares—High Mark Was 178.

The price of common stock of the Laclede Gas Light Co. slumped somewhat this week on the New York Stock Exchange, after the establishment of a new high record of 178 on March 31. A unit of 100 shares sold yesterday at 160.

Sales for the last two complete weeks were 2600 shares and 3700 shares, respectively, and for the first four days this week 500. The high mark this week was 162, Tuesday, with yesterday's 160 being low.

There are outstanding 107,000 shares of common, par value $10.00. The low mark for 1925 is 110 1/4 and for 1924, 79. St. Louisans are heavily interested in the stock, although a majority of it is now held by the syndicate in control, headed by Charles A. Monroe, chairman of the board. Monroe's syndicate purchased the controlling interest last spring at 95 1/2.

Plans Being Made for Program April 20 to 25.

A boys' week at St. Charles is being planned by the Rotarians and other organizations for the week of April 20 to 25. The program, taken up at the Rotary Club meeting yesterday, will include addresses by local business men; an inter-school athletic contest with a marathon relay race, and probably one day of city government by boys.

Two Sisters Injured by Train.
By the Associated Press.

MACOMBE, Ill., April 10.—Clarice and Claire Duncan, 15-year-old twins escaped death, but suffered injuries when struck by a railroad engine on a crossing here late yesterday. Both were under an umbrella in the rain. They stood on one track watching the switch engine on another track, observers said.

A locomotive hit them with their backs turned. Clarice suffered the loss of her left leg above the knee and Claire was internally injured.

54542—Fines in January.
Fines and costs totaling $10,455.50 were collected from Justice Court cases and in the St. Clair County Court during the January term in Belleville, according to a report made yesterday to Circuit Judge Crow, by State's Attorney Lindauer. The largest fine, a large amount. Many of the fines were collected in liquor cases.

Reality Back Tax Suite Filed.
Prosecuting Attorney F. H. Blomback filed 80 tax suits and 50 cases in the Circuit Court at St. Charles yesterday. The suits range from $10 to $500, and are scheduled for trial during the May terms of court that will convene May 1.

CHILDREN'S DIET

EDITH GOULD'S Own Story of the LIFE of a RICH GIRL

The Interesting Autobiography of a Daughter of One of America's Multimillionaires.

By EDITH GOULD WAINWRIGHT.
Daughter of George J. Gould and Granddaughter of Jay Gould.

CHAPTER III.

ATYPICAL day in the Gould home, either at Lakewood or Furlough in the Catskills, to continue my recollections of education and discipline, was about like this:

At 7:30 o'clock the nurse would arouse each youngster and dress him or her. As soon as tiny fingers were able to manipulate buttons and buttonholes they were left to do so unaided. Then we would assemble in the nursery dining room for breakfast, that consisted of orange juice, cereal, bacon and eggs, whole, wheat rolls (white bread was never served to the children) and milk. The milk was served at the temperature of the room.

The next step would be to bid good morning to our parents in their bedroom, where we would remain until it was time for our first lesson to begin. Chairs and tables were placed on the terrace back of the house and there we remained with the teachers.

The first lesson for me in the morning was German. This is a language with which I early became familiar, knowing how to write the German script even before I could use our own alphabet. German continued for an hour, after which French was the subject. Italian, my favorite foreign tongue, was the next subject.

Through the eloquence of Signorina Clelia Florilla, successor to Signorina Lucci (now Mrs. Kingdon Gould), I acquired a love for things Italian—people, literature, art and ceremony.

In order to give us a chance to stretch our limbs and rest our minds, a 15-minute recess followed. This was spent in playing tag or hop scotch or in amiable discussion.

At last we were free to speak English for a few minutes, although so thoroughly were we schooled in linguisitics that foreign words kept creeping in.

Miss Curtis, general supervisor of education, whom the children affectionately called Aunt Carrie, would try to teach me the complexities of arithmetic. I say tried advisedly, because, in spite of her most painstaking efforts, practically nothing but the rudiments of the study remain. I hate it. Twice a week arithmetic was supplanted by a piano lesson, which was equally detested. I love the piano—when someone else plays it.

Whole-grain cereals are another important food—given twice a day to the 2-year-old and at least once a day to children between 3 and 4. Instead of using the same one morning and evening, a different one may be selected for the evening meal. More than any other food, perhaps, they require thorough cooking to render them appetizing. The coarse ones should be strained until toward the end of the child's second year—and served warm, with milk, but unsweetened.

Egg yolk should be a part of children's diet. From one-half to one yolk daily is sufficient until the child has passed the age of 2, when whole eggs can be given to advantage, three or four times a week. Once fruit is introduced into the diet, it is health's life-long friend—for toddlers, for school children, for adults. From orange juice a child is led to take prune juice or pulp, cooked apple juices or pulp, strained pineapple or fresh peach juice. Mild-flavored vegetables of good quality, such as spinach, carrots, string beans and green peas are excellent from several points of view. Later, cabbage, celery and other green vegetables can be added to the diet with fine results.

Vegetable soup is a good medium through which to give children the vegetables they should have. They are another daily food item that should never be omitted in childhood and manhood.

The potato has a place all its own. One or two tablespoonsfuls of a properly baked potato or one boiled in its jacket, mashed and seasoned with a little cream or butter are easily digested by a little child.

When the children reach the running-about stage they need some form of dry, rather hard bread for each meal. Frequent use of whole wheat bread is good. Plain cooking, graham or whole wheat crackers or stale sponge cake may sometimes be given at the end of a meal to children over 2, but never soft cake.

So it will be seen that milk, vegetables, fruit, cereals, whole hard bread, with potato once a day, are the best food for children. The butter needed may be given moderately on bread, with potato and in cooked vegetables. See that the children begin the day well with a good breakfast and never allow a child to go to school or to play breakfasts.

Water is so important that it must have a paragraph all to itself. Every child should drink water at regular intervals during the day, the amount depending on the quantity of other liquids given.

It is not generally wise to increase too quickly the quantity of foods given. When quite young children are made to realize that food for them and food for their parents are not the same, they will later sit at one table without paying any attention to what they see others eating. A boy does not claim to go to school in his father's business suit. He knows it would be absurd. The same sort of mind can be established with food and the children will benefit.

For the first time Peter suspected that perhaps his big cousin was making fun of him. But at least they are not in the way.

The Upsetting of Peter

-0- Children's Bedtime Story -0-

By Thornton W. Burgess

To know you know, then find you don't.

I'm sure you will agree,
Is just about upsetting as A thing can ever be.

—Peter Rabbit.

But if it is true, for I saw it with my own eyes!

you think they are. Go ask him if what I say isn't true."

Poor Peter. It was quite upsetting. He had been so sure that at last he had found out for himself just how Thunderer the Grouse drummed, and now he was told that he was no wiser than before. He tried very hard to believe that Jumper was right, but something inside told him that Jumper was right. Yes, sir, it was most upsetting.

Chicken Supreme.

Take two and a half cupfuls of minced cold boiled chicken and dust it with pepper and salt, sprinkle with the juice of an onion and a tablespoonful of chopped celery leaves. Peel and blanch a half pound of chestnuts then put them on to cook in a cupful of milk and a half cupful of water, boil gently, and as they soften mash them with the back of the spoon, then very soft put through a puree sieve and add a quarter cupful of cream, a lump of butter and when hot the chicken. Heat well and then turn onto slices of toast and serve garnished with parsley.

Jumper's face was quite sober as he continued.

"Yes, sir, it would take tough sides to stand such a beating as that, and so many times a day. How did you discover it, Peter?"

"By watching," replied Peter. "I was where I could see just what Thunderer did. He lifted his wings up and then brought them down against his sides, and each time he did it there was a boom.

So, I knew then that Thunderer drums by beating his sides with his stout wings."

"And you didn't once wonder how his sides could stand such a thumping?" asked Jumper.

"No," confessed Peter. "No, I didn't think of it. But, now you mention it, it is surprising how his sides can stand it."

"You mean it would be surprising if it were true," retorted Jumper.

"My, my, what tough sides he must have!" exclaimed Jumper.

"He must have the toughest sides of any one I know of. It makes me ache just to think of such a beating. What do you suppose his sides are made of?"

For the first time Peter suspected that perhaps his big cousin was making fun of him. But at least they are not in the way.

CHAPTER 25.

Mariana came into the library shortly before dinner was announced. Charles Cullam were away animatedly. A man of smoke encircled Charles was busily engaged in making up a cocktail.

He paused a moment in his work, quite conscious of the picture she made in the red and silver gown in the background of dark recall that half-laughing statement.

The evening proved unexpectedly delightful to Cullam. The dinner, served in the stately dining room, whose French windows opened out on the moonlit terrace, was excellent. His hostess was charmingly sympathetic. She didn't tire the questions at him and hang breathlessly on his replies, as Mrs. Amos Hunter Deering did. She refrained from asking him all the obvious things about the stage, popular and ludicrous illusions which it wearied him to crush time after time.

He found himself chatting easily and pleasantly with her, after the fashion of an old and valued friend. Her quality of sympathetic understanding reminded him somewhat of Doris. Doris had a knack of drawing from him confidences, little personal confessions, of his hopes and fears and ambitions, which he would not consciously have told to anyone lest he be thought egotistical and boring.

His eyes dropped to her. There were other little characteristics about this young wife of Charles which were faintly reminiscent of Doris, he thought—or was it only that Doris was so eternally enshrined in his heart that he saw her everywhere? Mrs. Page's trick of using her slim hands to emphasize a point, her brilliant, unexpected smile that punctuated a droll sentence, were vaguely familiar.

He admitted to himself that Charles had a beautiful wife, but she might have been a Fiji Islander, or a dusky belle on the coast of Africa for all she meant to him as a woman. There was

place in his heart for only one divinity and it was occupied for keeps. Moreover, this was the wife of his good friend and, though her eyes were piquantly alluring and she seemed most flatteringly aware of him as an attractive young man, he was completely untouched.

Mariana, accustomed to an undisguised admiration from new men she happened to meet, was rather piqued by his polite reserve.

Charles was summoned to the long distance phone just as they were finishing coffee in the library. Mariana offered to show their guest the garden, and together they strolled across the moonlit terrace and descended the broad marble steps to the little pool where the Japanese fountains sang merrily round and round.

She lifted her lovely face to the moonlight, and drew in deep breaths of the perfumed air. Her companion was looking up at the silvery plaque, too. His good looks—the dark wavy hair, the unfathomable eyes, the clean-cut mouth with its humorous curve, the olive-tinted flesh and white strength of him—thrilled her. Here indeed was a worthy prince of dreams, come to life! Romance, starved and weary with waiting, lifted its head in triumph.

"Isn't it curious how the moon fascinates us?" she said softly. "I wonder if it's because we can look at it and know that somewhere, no matter how far away, someone we love can be seeing it too, at the same moment."

His eyes dropped to her.

Momentarily, he had forgotten her presence. He had been thinking of Doris, wondering if she too had raised her eyes to the moon and if she had been thinking of Charles—or of him.

Mariana sensed his distraction. "Shall we go in?" she suggested. (To Be Continued.)

POLICE ENJOINED FROM STOPPING THREE RAFFLES

Temporary Orders Issued
In Circuit Court to Legion Post, Eagles and Carnival Proprietor.

ACTION FOLLOWS BAN ON OPERATION

Gerk Issues Order to Prohibit Gambling in All Forms, Including Chance Games for Charity.

A general police order today prohibiting further operation of raffles, lotteries and other forms of public gambling, met with resistance when promoters of raffles went into court and obtained injunctions against enforcement of the police order.

The temporary injunctions were issued at noon by Circuit Judges Calhoun and Miller on application of the Jackson Johnson Jr. Post of the American Legion, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie No. 41, and Charles M. Oliver, carnival proprietor. Hearings will be held Tuesday.

The Legion Post and the Eagles Lodge had been ordered to stop raffles at Kingshighway and St. Louis avenue, and 4200 South Broadway, respectively. Oliver, who states he has operated carnivals for the last five years in a legitimate business, asserted in his suit that police tried to stop raffles at his street carnival at Gratiot avenue.

Order Against Gambling.

Chief of Police Gerk also had ordered representatives of the St. Louis District Turners, Inc., and the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows not to conduct raffles advertised for the future. The Chief's order was in line with the new Police Board's dictum that "Gambling is gambling, whether the proceeds go to professional gamblers or to charity."

The Turners had sent out $1 tickets for raffles of a four-room flat and three automobiles to be held in connection with a symphonic tournament at Concordia Hall, May 9-10. The church, through its pastor, the Rev. Bernard A. Reile, had mailed $1 tickets for a raffle of a picnic on grounds adjoining the church at 511 South Kingshighway, June 9. As an added inducement, six tickets were offered for $5.

Handbooks on horse races, baseball and other games, whatever the number in operation, will be seized at all times, Chief Gerk said, adding, however, "We will not invade the sanctity of the home."

Big Money Propositions.

Starting with "wheels of fortune" and booths where men, women and children were invited to try their luck at a dime a try, usually at church carnivals, the games of chance have developed into big money propositions, with chances selling at $1 to $5 and prizes worth thousands of dollars.

In behalf of a church building fund, a handsome bungalow with garage and automobile attached, priced at $25,000, was raffled last year. Perhaps the biggest operators of all have been various associations of business men, particularly one on the South Side, which raffled a varied assortment of automobiles, calculated to suit all tastes and purses, all at one time. In this case, however, the tickets were not sold, but were issued with merchandise bought from merchants belonging to the association.

Another lure held out by business men to attract trade to their section was the street carnival, where chickens, geese, groceries, handwork, umbrellas and gaudy jewelry were handed out by "sharkers" to the holders of the lucky number on the spool of the wheel of fortune.

To Enforce Gambling Laws.

In behalf of church and fraternal organizations, it has been urged that the proceeds went entirely to charitable or building funds and that the insurance and professional operators were not allowed. Those who paid a dime or dollar for a ticket were, in effect, contributing so much to a worthy cause. It was added, with the price of a raffle merely incidental.

In an interview today, Chief Gerk said the department would strictly enforce the law against public gambling. He would make no attempt to invade homes or private institutions.

In a letter to the Rev. Father Gerk, the Church Clerk said "certain members" of the Police Board had
